Permanent medic jobs

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

Granite City moved Tuesday night to transfer 17 former Manpower workers into the regular general fund payroll and to absorb the bulk of their salaries, formerly paid by the Manpower program. The additional salary cost is expected to approximate $200,000 per year.

The action was taken in enactment of a series of ordinances including one that transferred 14 emergency medical technicians (EMTs) from Manpower payrolls to the status of permanent city employees. Under the ordinance, each will receive $1,104 per month.

EMTs have been serving the Granite City Ambulance Service as Manpower employees, receiving $10,000 of their annual $13,284 salary under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act. In another ordinance, the council transferred Francis White from Manpower to the city as secretary to Fire Chief Don Parente at a salary of $906 per month.

The council also gave city employee status to Dominic Greco, city hall custodian, at a salary of $906 per month.

The change from Manpower to city status became necessary because of changes in CETA guidelines which phased out most city government CETA workers, effective Friday.

The aldermen also approved city employment of Bruce Sikes as a dispatcher at the police station at a monthly salary of $834 per month.

Granite City is being hardest hit by the loss of manpower employees in its ambulance service where virtually all of the EMTs have received $10,000 per year of their salaries since the city initiated the ambulance service.

The transfer of the 14 EMTs approved Tuesday night will cost the city an additional $140,000 per year.

In a related action, council members plan a meeting at 4:30 p.m. Monday in the city hall to hear representatives of surrounding communities and townships who wish to discuss an increase in the cost of ambulance calls which has been ordered by the city to help make up the added salary cost.

Ends 34-year service

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

E. Harry Buente, 84, who has been a First Ward Venice Alderman for 34 years, has announced his resignation from the Venice City Council effective at midnight Sunday, Sept. 30.

The announcement was made in a letter to Mayor Tyrone Echols at the Tuesday evening City Council meeting.

The resignation came as a surprise to most of those attending the meeting. In his letter Buente gave no reason for the resignation of his present term which does not expire until April 1981.

Following the meeting, he said, "After 34 years it's time to retire. I do want to thank everybody, particularly those in Ward One, who have supported me all this time."

When asked if he had made any recommendations to Mayor Echols for a successor until the 1981 election, Alderman Buente said flatly, "No. That will be up to the mayor."

The council accepted the resignation with regret and ordered a resolution honoring Buente be drawn and that a plaque be presented to both Buente and former Alderman Oscar King for their long years of service to the people and city of Venice.

King did not seek re-election in the last election.

Mayor Echols when asked about a replacement for the retiring alderman said, "I honestly have not given it much thought. Alderman Buente is still in office until Sept. 30. After he is retired I will give the matter very serious attention."

Buente was elected acting mayor of Venice on Friday, Jan. 5, after a series of recessed meetings.

He filled a vacancy created by the resignation of former Mayor William Ebersold.

Due to health he resigned as acting mayor, but not as alderman, on Feb. 1.

Buente was elected to nine consecutive four-year terms as alderman of Ward One.

A native and lifelong resident of Venice, the alderman served in World War I and is a member of the Venice-Madison American Legion Post 37 and of Barracks 34, World War I Veterans of the U.S.A.

He attended Venice schools and a business college and is a retired railroad clerk.

Buente served as chief of the Venice volunteer fire department for 17 years.

Buente said his current plans are to just remain in Venice and enjoy life with his many friends.

Abolish street aide job

The controversial issue over the job status of James Stack, originally appointed as assistant city street superintendent, was resolved by the Granite City Council Tuesday night in the enactment of ordinances which name Stack as an assistant city inspector and abolishes his old job with the street department.

The aldermen, who have been debating the fact that while Stack was appointed as a member of the street department, he has spent most of his working time in the sanitation department which is headed by City Inspector Emeritus Daves, and has been paid out of sanitation department funds.

Stack was appointed in February 1976 as an assistant to City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell. At that time, Portell protested the appointment, which was made by Mayor Paul Schuler, contending that he did not need an assistant. Due to political differences, Portell refused to recognize Stack as one of his employees and Stack eventually was assigned to jobs in the sanitation department.

Council members Tuesday night approved an ordinance amending an 1958 ordinance that created the jobs of city inspector and an assistant inspector. The amendment provides for the job of city inspector and two assistants.

The aldermen then approved an ordinance confirming the appointment of Stack as assistant city inspector.

In a separate ordinance, the council repealed the ordinance creating the job of assistant street superintendent.

The ordinance naming Stack as assistant inspector fixes his salary at $1,552 per month of $18,624 per year. This is $870 more than the annual salary of $17,754 received by Daves and is $2,959 more than the annual salary of the other assistant inspector, Pete Farrow.

In discussing rearrangement of Stack's job, several aldermen objected to Stack's salary being higher than Daves', but other officials said it is probable salary adjustments will be made.

Fairmount track awaits busy 1980

Boon times are being predicted for Madison County's horse race track, Fairmount Park, Route 40, Collinsville Road.

The Illinois Racing Board on Tuesday night denied Cahokia Downs in St. Clair County any 1980 racing dates, instead awarding all the spring and summer dates for Southern Illinois to Fairmount. The two tracks formerly shared the schedule on an alternating basis.

The board ruled Cahokia Downs is financially unsound due to loans owed to its concession contractor, Sportsystems.

CROSSING OBSTRUCTION LAW. State Representative Everett G. Steele (R-Ofen Carbon) observes as Governor James Thompson (seated) signs legislation substantially increasing penalties against railroads that block road intersections more than 10 minutes. Introduced by Steele in the House and sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), the new law takes effect Jan. 1, 1980, and provides for a fine against a railroad company of $200 after a 10-minute road blockage and $500 after 15 minutes. The penalty increases to $1,000 at 30 minutes, with an additional $500 every five minutes thereafter. Previously, trains were subject only to a petty offense fine, and the judge had discretion whether to levy a penalty. Steele cited numerous violations of the 10-minute road blockage law in the Madison County region, including East 23rd Street here.

Tears shed as Counts is selected

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

James Counts, 3200 Harvard St., State Park Place, was selected unanimously as the new trustee for Nameoki Township by the town board Monday night.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, who had campaigned for the appointment and presented a petition bearing the signatures of 785 supporters who wanted her appointed, wept in the audience as the board unanimously concurred in the appointment of Counts.

He was the only candidate nominated by the board and was selected by acclamation to fill a vacancy created when Trustee Norman Hessler moved from Nameoki Township into Chouteau Township.

Mrs. Hawkins received more votes for trustee in the last township election than Trustee Andy Besserman, but lost an election challenge in court on technicalities. She contended she was the logical person to appoint to the board, but was told she "scared" some members of the board.

"The 785 persons who signed petitions for me to be appointed did not want to scare you," she said.

Besserman responded, "I said that. What I wanted to say, if you had let me continue, was that anyone who would work so hard for a job that pays $1,800 a year, you can't trust them. It scares me."

Supervisor Harold Davis hinted at a previous meeting that the campaign by Mrs. Hawkins to be appointed might be unsuccessful when he said the decision on a new trustee would be strictly the board's decision and they would not be swayed by petitions, newspaper editorials or other outside pressures.

Counts has been active in the State Park Fire Department 13 years and is now a captain. He serves as a Democratic precinct committeeman for State Park Place Precinct Four since 1976 and is a member of the Executive Board of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

Counts, 34, was born in East St. Louis and has resided in State Park Place 21 years. He served as a legislative aide to

ANGRY REACTION to the appointment of James Counts as a trustee of Nameoki Township Monday night is expressed by Mrs. Helen Hawkins, left, who said she felt she should have been appointed to the post since she had a petition of 785 signatures asking that she be appointed and since she had received enough votes to be elected in the last township election, but was never seated due to technicalities in the election challenge.

Two youths face charges

Mark Montgomery, 18, of 1511 Clark St., was released on $35 cash bond charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and Howard W. Teller, 17, of 175 Briarmore Lane was also released on $35 cash bond charged with curfew violation.

Granite City police while on routine patrol at 3:30 a.m. Sunday stopped a 14-year-old girl at 27th street and Cleveland Boulevard.

She allegedly told police she had just left a party made up mostly of minors, but the party was becoming unruly.

She would not tell police the location of the party. Police checking 27th Street saw an auto driven by Montgomery and stopped it at 27th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Passengers in the auto were three minors, all girls and Teller.

All were taken to police headquarters where Montgomery and Teller were charged. The girls were released to their parents.

POSTS $35 BOND

Bobby Joe Wood, 42, of 3801 Lake Drive was released on $35 cash bond at 6:15 a.m. Saturday on a charge of disorderly conduct. Granite City police were answering a call to the 18th Street Lounge that a man allegedly had a gun. Wood was leaving in a pickup as police arrived, but was stopped in the 2000 block of Grand avenue. He allegedly was belligerent and trying to start a fight in the lounge.

The barber and his mysterious jar

I gotta tell ya, my kids don't dig getting their hair cut, especially Dennis. I swear I will let it grow to their waists before I put anyone through that again.

I have great respect for Frank the barber. He is a gentleman of great intestinal fortitude, not to mention the patience of a saint.

I warned the barber. I made him well aware of the fact that Dennis doesn't care too much for people of Frank's profession. The gentleman, despite my ominous warnings, said he would cut my young son's hair.

I sat down to watch, my conscience clear. Whatever Dennis pulled was on the barber's shoulders; he had been duly warned. My seven year old began by fidgeting. I don't know how anyone can cut a head of hair that is in constant motion, but Frank did.

I saw this look of determination come over the barber's face as Dennis moved his head with his hands for the fourth time. I could see that the haircut was to be a battle of wills. I was about to tell Frank how long Dennis could hold his breath when the experienced man with the scissors began to tell my little boy about the jar full of ears.

I suppressed a giggle as Dennis, in fear for his ears, sat perfectly still for two full minutes. I wondered what was going through the child's mind.

I imagined him thinking about losing his ears. I could tell that he believed the story the barber told him about the jar full of ears, accidentally cut off when little children moved their heads at the wrong time. My young son was a little concerned lest his own ears end up in that jar.

Somehow, amongst the wild stories and the holding of breath, Dennis' hair was cut. The credit goes to Frank, who had to take a ten minute break after it was over. I think he was wondering why he ever let my youngest in his chair in the first place.

Things went a little easier with my very grown up 10 year old, who immediately began to tell the barber how his hair was to be cut.

Somehow we all survived the haircuts, that day anyway. Only four hours had passed by the time it was over.

I think Frank came out of it okay. But I must admit that he looked a little ruffled. Come to think of it, he didn't take my money.

And I wonder what he meant when he took his scissors, comb and dryer and smashed them with the hammer.

Rick Olson to minister

Rick Olson, director of Youth Ministries for the Assemblies of God in Illinois will be ministering at City Temple, 4751 Maryville Road, Sept. 28 through Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Olson gives direction to the youth ministry in the 275 Assembly of God churches throughout the state. He coordinates summer bible camps and several statewide retreats throughout the year.

He directs numerous projects such as bible quizzing, teen talent, a program to develop the music ministries of the youth, speed-the-light, raising funds to equip missionaries with modern vehicles and printing equipment, and ambassadors in missions, a youth oriented overseas missions project.

Rev. Olson also directs the Assemblies of God outreach to high school and college campuses across the state of Illinois. This ministry now has prayer and bible study cells on more than 20 college campuses, and numerous groups on high schools throughout the state.

A graduate of North Central Bible College, Minneapolis, Minn., Rev. Olson was youth pastor in Anoka, Minn. and college pastor in Rockford, Ill., before coming to the state headquarters office in 1978.

TRAFFIC CHARGE

Larry L. Matyas, 26, 5101 Rapp Road, Pontoon Beach was released at 2:35 a.m. Sunday on $50 cash bond and his drivers license after being charged with driving while intoxicated. Matyas at 12:32 a.m. Sunday allegedly struck the car of Samuel Cline which was parked in front of Cline's residence at 2820 Madison Ave. Witnesses reported Matyas allegedly drove on after hitting the car about one block and then got out of his car. He then started hitch hiking, but was detained by the witnesses until police arrived according to authorities.

Mitchell firemen plan 'open house'

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

A demonstration of rescue techniques following a simulated automobile crash will be among the highlights of the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department's third annual "open house," scheduled Saturday, Oct. 13.

The open house is being arranged in observance of National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7-13. Robert Sander, who is in charge of the open house program, said this week that all visitors will be welcome at the fire station, located on East Chain of Rocks Road, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Oct. 13.

Fire engines, emergency vehicles and other firefighting and lifesaving equipment will be on display at the firehouse throughout the day and may be inspected.

Adult guests visiting the station will be given souvenir key rings and youngsters will receive plastic fire hats and other mementos.

Sander said that at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 13, a simulated auto accident will be staged with the firemen exhibiting various rescue techniques.

At 2 p.m., the firefighters will demonstrate the use of foam.

Visitors may have their blood pressure tested throughout the day, Sander said.

Refreshments will be served and the public will have the opportunity to patronize a bake sale and bazaar, sponsored by the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary.

The auxiliary reorganized this week and chose Ruth Richardson as president.

Also during Fire Prevention Week, members of the volunteer department will visit Mitchell Grade School and explain fire prevention procedures to school children.

Firemen also will observe the youngsters while participating in a fire drill at school and present a program for members of the Mitchell Parent-Teacher Association.

The volunteer fire protection group was formed in 1945 with seven members.

It formally became a department in 1949 upon establishment of a fire protection district, and the organizational charter calls for 25 firemen.

Current strength of the force is 22 men with three vacancies presently existing, Sander said.

Although still manned by volunteers, the department continues to maintain its around-the-clock lifesaving services to area residents.

Since construction of Interstate 270 and the influx of a heavy flow of cross-country traffic adjacent to Mitchell, the calls for rescue assistance have vastly expanded in just a few short years.

The volunteer department also handles boating and swimming mishaps in the Mississippi River and elsewhere, in addition to the fire calls.

The department is headed by Fire Chief Lee Paul.

PLAN WATER SLIDE

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an on-site hearing at 11:05 a.m. Monday near the mobile home park at the bluffs on Route 157 at State Aid Route 35 where the Rev. Karol Rekas is requesting a special use permit to place a water slide for commercial use.

Homecoming fever is taking hold at South

Homecoming fever is beginning to take hold at Granite City High School South as students selected the court last week.

The South Homecoming week will be Oct. 15 through Oct. 19.

Members of the Homecoming Court are: Tammy Barnes, Charlene Bennington, Lori DelRossi, Tracey Dimock, Laurie Ferrere, Laurie Jones, Debbie Kelly, Barb Muhlenbeck, Josie Linhart, Sue Robinson, Brenda Whitaker and Kathy Wilson.

Boys in the court are: Phil Beljanski, Jeff Bergerbrader, James Blasingame, Jack Burnett, Dru Clement, Mike Hildreth, Lee Heubner, Craig Kessler, Rodney Lupardus, John Manogian, Tony Pierce and Steve Schneider.

The selection of the Queen and her escort will not be revealed until after the homecoming play.

"The Man Who Came to Dinner" will be the play presented on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 17 and 18.

The presentation of the queen and her court will follow the play both evenings.

The GCHS South Football Warriors will try to scalp the Cahokia Comanches at the traditional homecoming grid contest scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 19.

Other plans are in the making for a dance, parade and bonfire.

DATA PROCESSING DIRECTOR CHOSEN

E. Leon Daniel has been named director of data processing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Rita C. Fritters, vice president for business affairs, said yesterday. The appointment is effective Oct. 1, subject to confirmation by the SIU board.

In addition to supervising personnel, his duties will include budget preparation, analysis of hardware and software performance data, and the estimation, projection and scheduling of future requirements and resources.

News notes

Railroad workers returned to their jobs Wednesday after the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered a 60-day takeover of the strikebound Rock Island railroad by the Kansas City Terminal. The month-long shutdown had been hampering grain shipments.

A $3,000 Rembrandt etching was stolen from a wall of the Oppi Gallery in the SIUE University Center.

Sen. Charles H. Percy will meet with new Transportation Secretary Neil Goldschmidt to urge a new look at the Columbia-Waterloo airport plan delayed by former Sen. Brock Adams.

The open meetings law and other school-related issues will be discussed at an all-day law conference workshop at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at SIUE.

A budget totaling $9 million was approved by the Illinois State Board Tuesday night.

Metro-East Lutheran High School, now at 1327 Vaughn Road, Wood River, will build a new $650,000 school on Center Grove Road between Routes 157 and 159, Edwardsville. Bonds are to be issued, and TA Builders, Troy, will construct the school.

Granite City Kiwanis will hold their annual benefit peanut sale tomorrow and Saturday.

Next Tuesday, Oct. 2, the School Board will hold its 7:30 p.m. meeting in the GCHS North library.

Former Rep. Joe E. Luceo spoke at a rally Wednesday in Edwardsville seeking support for override of the governor's veto of food-drug sales tax elimination.

Pres. Carter on Tuesday signed a new law appropriating water project funds, including preliminary work on replacing the Alton lock and dam.

An unannounced state inspection found no major faults with the Juvenile Detention Home.

The County Board finance committee is funding the salaries of five jailers formerly paid by the CETA program, and the sheriff is transferring funds for three others. The jobs of eight other county government CETA employees also are being made permanent.

A committee was formed Wednesday to study citizens' role on Gateway Council committees.

Nine Illinois labor leaders on Tuesday endorsed Sen. Edward Kennedy for president.

GIRL HIT BY CYCLE
Miss Mary Corvett, 15, of 1017 E. Chain or Rocks Road, Mitchell, suffered a broken bone in her lower left leg when she was struck by a motorcycle in Mitchell yesterday. She said she was standing on a corner when she was struck. She was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was admitted.

THEFT OF GASOLINE
Joe Herman, 1120 Iowa St., Madison, discovered at 11:15 p.m. Wednesday someone cut a piece of his garden hose, entered his garage and siphoned about 15 gallons of gasoline from his auto.

$200 taken in armed robbery

An armed robber stole about $200 in cash and two checks from Lehn's Confectionery, 2501 E. 24th St., at 2:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Anna Daniels, an employee of the confectionery, said she was stocking shelves when a thin man in his early 20s entered with a Turkish towel wrapped around his head and shoulders and wearing a gray baseball cap, and said, "Good morning, mam."

She went to the counter to wait on him and said he held his hand under the towel as though he was holding a gun and said, "Don't move or say a word or I'll blow your head off," the victim related.

He then asked only for the bills and not the change in the register. When she gave him the money from the register drawer, he asked for the bills under the cash drawer and for the white bag of money he said he knew was kept behind the counter.

She complied, giving him a bank bag of cash. The robber then said there was someone else outside who would be watching her and would be shoot her if she "did anything foolish," police were told.

He left on foot east on East 24th Street. The robber was described as about 5 feet, 11 inches tall, having a fair complexion and blue eyes, sandy blond hair to his neck and wearing a gray sweatshirt.

Two customers in the store reported he wore a yellow sweatband when he entered.

Mortgage plan nearly ready

Granite City expects to initiate its low-interest home mortgage loan program within the next week and should be ready to distribute the first loan funds by the end of October.

Finalizing of the loan program was announced Tuesday by Mayor Paul Schuler who said he had been informed by the Aetna Insurance Co. that it will take up the full $10 million bond issue proposed by the city to finance home purchase loans at well below the market interest rate.

The program has been in the development stage since last March and narrowly escaped abandonment because of federal legislation removing the tax-free status of financing bonds. The government, however, agreed to permit continuance of such programs under previous regulations if arrangements for bond sales had been complete prior to April 25.

Granite City had done so and therefore was permitted to continue with its program.

Mayor Schuler noted that since Aetna will take up the entire bond issue, there will be no need to acquire Standard & Poor bond ratings for sale of the revenue bonds.

Following notice that Aetna will buy the bonds, the City Council in its regular meeting Tuesday night unanimously approved a resolution authorizing Mayor Schuler to complete all remaining documentary procedure necessary to the bond sale.

About one week will be required to complete and process legal documents necessary to the transaction, according to David Nolan, administrative aide to Mayor Schuler.

The resolution also authorized the mayor to notify the lending agencies who will participate in the program that they may begin accepting applications for home mortgage loans. Nolan said the program should be ready to begin distributing loan funds by the end of October.

Interest rates still are to be determined but it has been estimated that the bond issue can be sold at an interest rate of 7.25 percent and that the interest on home mortgage loans may be set at 8.75 percent.

Granite City was one of the last municipalities in the country to make use of the tax free bonds opportunity before the U.S. Congress took action to put the tax-free status of the bonds in question.

Dixon stresses coal use

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon said today the promotion of Illinois coal must be a major issue of the 1980s at the state and national levels. He pointed out that his state administration in Springfield has saved more than $25 million and burned 37,000 tons of Illinois mined coal — instead of 4.6 million gallons of oil — in just the last two years.

"During this same period of time, through the installation of an energy saving computer system and an intensive energy savings program, our administration saved 7.3 million kilowatt hours of electricity," he told the Illinois AFL-CIO state convention this morning at the State Armory in Springfield.

"This translates to a money saving of almost $2.3 million of today's cost of kilowatt hours and covers the entire cost of electrical energy and coal for the 1980 fiscal year, with a surplus of $811,000.

"We are helping the working men and working women with Illinois jobs and also assisting the entire Illinois economy by our coal policy."

Dixon said he will use his influence to encourage private industry to develop coal gasification plants, such as the $100 million facility scheduled for construction at Wood River, which will generate over 1,000 construction jobs and 300 permanent positions.

"I believe there should also be a concerted effort for the development of a similar plant in the New Athens area. This is simply one more case of how aggressive marketing of our coal resources could pay off in greatly expanded sales and many more jobs here in Illinois."

Dixon added, "I have been promoting Illinois coal since 1951, when I sponsored legislation for its increased utilization."

"The state oil reserves in the Middle East represent only 2,000 quads of energy. (One quad is equal to one quadrillion BTU's.) In Illinois alone, we have 3,200 quads of energy in our proven coal reserves."

"It is the responsibility of people throughout the state to join hands in providing the technological methods that will allow our coal to be mined and liquefied in an inexpensive manner."

"We simply cannot afford to sit idly by and miss opportunities. The road to American progress should not be paved with empty promises and empty foreign oil barrels, but rather with full employment and full utilization of our natural resources."

Venice police promotions

Venice Patrolman Roderick Bauder was promoted to the rank of sergeant at the Tuesday evening Venice City Council meeting.

Bauder had the highest score on competitive examinations conducted by the Venice police commissioners.

Bauder began working as a police dispatcher June 6, 1978, and later was hired as a patrolman. He holds a bachelor's degree in law enforcement.

Bauder is replacing former Sgt. Charles Mize who retired.

Patrolman James Bennett was promoted to corporal.

His promotion was also on the basis of high score on test. Bennett has an Associate's Degree in Law Enforcement.

Bennett is filling the vacancy that occurred when Cpl. Farris Smith was made chief of police by Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols.

The council also approved the hiring of two new probationary patrolmen. Daniel T. McKinney and Ronald D. Brawley were hired.

McKinney who is currently a security guard at the Granite City Army Installation will finish an associates degree in law enforcement in December.

Brawley holds a bachelor's degree in police administration and is currently working on his master's degree. He is the son of former Venice Police Chief Ralph D. Brawley.

McKinney and Brawley had the highest scores on the examination given for patrolmen.

Cyclist faces six charges

Michael L. Tidwell, 19, of 1909 Joy Ave., was charged with driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, not using lights on his motorcycle, violating a stop sign, speeding (65 mph in a 30 mph zone), and having an improper muffler after police alleged chasing his cycle from Nameoki Road at Clark Avenue to Wayne and Leonard avenues at 1:40 a.m. Wednesday.

A policeman alleged seeing two young men on a motorcycle leave Jack-in-the-Box Restaurant, 3330 Nameoki Road, at a high rate of speed and with "very loud mufflers," according to the officer.

The cycle was chased east on Clark Avenue, south on Terrace Lane, east on Johnson Road and south on Wayne Avenue where it allegedly violated the stop sign at Jill Avenue, according to police.

At Wayne and Leonard avenues, the car of Steve Krause entered the intersection and Krause stopped when he saw the oncoming cycle without a headlight, it was reported.

The cycle then went out of control and fell in front of the car. Tidwell, who allegedly was driving the cycle, suffered a small cut to his chin, but declined to be taken to the hospital. A passenger, Robert Matyas, escaped injury, officers said.

ZONING HEARING

The Pontoon Beach Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a public hearing at 10 a.m. Saturday at the village hall, 3099 Lake Drive, on a request of Harry Blockley to open a beauty shop in his home at 4178 Breckenridge Lane. The zoning board then will make its recommendation which will be acted upon by the Pontoon Beach Village Board at its next meeting.

Rep. Steele will speak

State Representative Everett G. Steele will be the featured speaker at a dinner meeting of the Granite City Republican Women's Club at 5 p.m. Oct. 2 at Bill Burns Cafeteria in the Colonial Dining Room.

A spokesman said it will offer an opportunity for club members and other interested citizens, men and women, to present their ideas or to ask questions concerning legislation.

Precinct committeemen, election judges and those concerned with local issues are also welcome. Interested persons may call the program chairman, Mrs. Bruce Reese, at 876-3411.

Pledges for Eagle Park fire station

Residents living in the Eagle Park Fire Protection District may deposit their $75 per family pledge funds at the Venice Township Office, it was announced today by Herman Smith, district president.

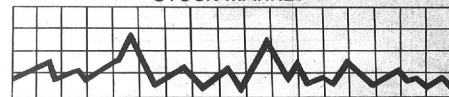

Families in the unincorporated community which lies south of Madison agreed to support the district and pledge funds to aid in construction of a fire station, Smith said.

He stressed that should the building not be constructed for some reason, all pledge money will be returned.

Most of the money to establish the district is being contributed from federal sources. A regular meeting date and time have been set by the district trustees, Smith said, noting that the public is invited to attend the sessions on the last Saturday of each month, starting at 7 p.m., in the Eagle Park Improvement Association Hall.

The trustees will hold a public meeting this Saturday at 7 p.m.

STOCK MARKET

6-Month Money Market Certificates

With today's inflation, recession and the uncertainty of the stock market and other kinds of investments, many smart investors are putting their excess funds where they will be secure and earn a high return.

You'll do just that when you put $10,000 or more in a 6-Month Money Market Certificate at Madison County Federal. Do it this week and earn:

10.114% EFFECTIVE DATES: 9/27 to 10/3

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early certificate withdrawal and prohibit compounding of interest on these amounts.

The interest rate for establishing these certificates changes every week, but remains in effect for the full term of the certificate. Madison County Federal's 6-Month Money Market Certificates...high interest, total security...a sure thing for smart investors.

Plan 17-acre residential development in Pontoon

Preliminary plans for developing a 17-acre tract of land in Pontoon Beach with 550,000 homes were presented to the Pontoon Beach Village Board Tuesday night for study.

Representatives of SGB Development Co., Granite City, gave a presentation for the board and pledged the preliminary plat of the subdivision will be available for inspection by the board within a month.

One month after that, the final plat should be completed, they said. Each home in the subdivision will have either a garage or a carport, officials were told.

The development is planned for a tract west of Route 111, between Kaseberg Lane and South Drive, property formerly owned by Howard Kaseberg. The property already is served by the new sewer lines being constructed in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships.

Herman Schroeder, Bud Gosnell and Richard Buenger are the owners of SGB Development Co., officials were told.

Officials were told.

Preliminary planning for moving the village hall and police department into a building to be constructed, or into an existing building which could be remodeled, was disclosed during the meeting.

Village Board President Paul Bennett called for a recessed meeting for 7 p.m. Tuesday to meet with a bonding expert from Chicago to discuss financing for a new building.

Village officials hope funds can be raised through the sale of bonds to enable the village to move into a new building, rather than continue paying $600 per month in rent for use of the present village hall building.

"In terms of long-range planning, owning a building is more economical than renting. Renting is just throwing $2,200 per year down the drain," Trustee Duane Skinner said after the meeting.

It is hoped that bonds issued for a village-owned building can be repaid from existing revenues, if financially possible. The amount of money which would be raised by a bond issue will be decided after village officials determine if it would be more feasible to construct a new building than to remodel an existing one which is for sale, it was explained.

The board hired two former Manpower policemen whose Manpower grants expire tomorrow. Patrolmen Michael Staicoff and Michael Crouch will be officially change from Manpower funding to village funding at the end of the day tomorrow. As patrolmen, they will continue to receive their present rate of pay.

The board agreed to pay $1,250 for the new electric line for the Quiet Valley Sanitary Lagoon.

It was agreed to give Patrolman Thomas Gull a $100 reimbursement for hospital expenses not covered by insurance. The board agreed to investigate why the village's insurance company refused to pay for the illness and hospitalization in question.

Seek sewer collector

Preliminary talks between county sewer engineers and Madison County Treasurer Nick Henkhaus have begun to determine if the treasurer's office will be responsible for collecting the user's fees for the new sewers being installed in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships.

Henkhaus said it would be possible for him to assign a person at the sewer office planned for construction in Pontoon Beach to handle billing and collection of user's fees, but he would have to add someone to his staff.

Agreement on the method of collecting user's fees is necessary before the Madison County Special Sewer Committee can complete an operations and maintenance manual. A preliminary draft of the manual has been given committee members.

Contractors believe the sewers will be in use about next June and billing of user's fees will start in July. A flat fee of $2 for each 1,000

Tri-City Port coal gas plant

The Tri-City Port was notified Wednesday by Congressman Melvin Price that the Port's proposal to the U.S. Department of Energy for a feasibility study of a coal gasification facility at the port has been approved.

Purpose of the $176,000 study will be to determine the economics of developing a low to medium BTU gasification plant to produce industrial fuel gas.

Gas produced by such a facility would have a BTU content in the 150 to 300 BTU per cubic foot range, as compared to 1,000 BTU per cubic foot for natural gas.

Local industries for which the condition of the streets, since the schedule does not call for blacktopping until the sewers have been approved, the project manager said.

Efforts are being taken to blacktop around manholes so snow plows and cars do not hit covers sticking up above the street surface. "We hope to have all the manholes covered by the streets before the first snow falls," he stated.

Crews will be on duty during the winter to maintain roads, handle water main breaks, help homeowners and resolve any problems related to the sewer construction, Hellemeyer said.

The high ground water table is presenting a major problem in some areas and extensive dewatering is underway. One major project involving dewatering around a large lift station is underway at Route 162 and Route 111, where it was necessary to bore into the highway, he explained.

Three crews have moved into the Stratford-Snowbird lane area, one of the few large areas where sewers have yet to be installed.

Hellemeyer said he is aware of objections by many homeowners that the sewer crews did not put topsoil on yards that were dug up. "What we dug out, we put back down. It would be nice if we could put good topsoil over everybody's yard, but the people paying for the project could not afford it."

"We did this job according to specifications in the contract and the contract does not call for topsoil. It would be too expensive. Still, I would say 95 percent of the homeowners are happy with the restoration we have done. It is the other five percent who complain and give us a bad name," he concluded.

It creates a lot of problems, but it will save a lot more problems later. If we just ran the sewer down the street and each homeowner has to cut across the street to hook on, after the street is blacktopped, the homeowners would be up a creek," he added.

The project manager also said the contractor has taken extra steps to be sure homeowners do not have to contend with water lines or gas lines when digging their own sewer connections.

"When we run across a utility line while digging, we know what to do about it. If homeowners hit a utility line, it would cause real problems, so we have run the sewers past all utility lines, where possible," he stated.

Hellemeyer said the project is 80 percent complete and the first home should be able to tap onto the system in June, if the winter is not too severe and no major problems are encountered.

However, there will be problems this winter with gallons of water used is being considered.

Livingston arrives for Chamber work

Jim Livingston is on duty at the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, where effective Oct. 1 he will succeed Edward P. Reiske as executive vice-president (full-time manager).

Reiske will remain active through October to aid in the transition.

A retired armed forces officer whose service included World War II, Livingston and his wife, Jeanette, are moving here from Pecos, Tex.

They have a son, Cliff, who is with the Air Force in San Antonio, Tex.; a daughter, Mrs. Linda Frest, Houston, Tex.; and three grandchildren.

Experienced in hotel-motel management—including the Nassau, Bahamas, area, where he was employed by the Sheraton Corp.—Livingston has been active in industrial development. He is a former mayor of Willsboro, Tex.

His grandparents resided in Decatur, Ill. Born in Burgettstown, Pa., he was raised in Wilmington, Ill., and regards his new job as an opportunity to "come back home" after years in other states.

Chamber President Roger Higgins conferred with Livingston and the Chamber yesterday and voiced praise for both executives.

Chamber officers for the 1979-80 year will be elected at the Oct. 3 board meeting and will be installed at the annual dinner Oct. 25.

Members of the Chamber Ambassadors honored Charles Meyer's team for winning annual membership recruiting competition during a dinner Tuesday evening at Charlie's Restaurant. At the head table were Mr. and Mrs. Higgins, Reiske, Mrs. Lois Winter, retiring president of the Women's Division of the Chamber, and her husband, William F. Winter.

Mrs. Mary Jessee, Ambassadors chairman, said Meyer and Shirley Adams, Billie Schuler, Lois Cline and Herman Schroeder accumulated 35 points based on new and reinstated member members.

Next with 28 points were Chris Paschoff, Wayne and Jeanette Scannell, Margaret Lee and Peggy Burch; 27% handmade booth will feature hand-made plaques, afghans, flower arrangements, brooms and pin holders. Chairman is Linda Beutel. Pat Knollman and Rosa Zikovich are in charge of the Christmas tree which will feature hundreds of Christmas tree ornaments, along with wreaths, stockings and advent calendars.

A booth of children's items will be featured, with dolls, stuffed animals, necklaces, stick horses and other items. Chairmen are Joan Wachter and Kathy Ray.

Gloria Kasproovich is head of the plant booth, which will offer live plants. A game room booth with games for children and adults will be offered. Mickey Strack is chairman.

She refused and struggled with the man until she was able to break free and run toward a nearby house. She said she heard a gunshot and dove to the ground. The truck then sped away south on Edna Street.

She described her attacker as young, thin, having a very dark complexion and wearing a light-colored T-shirt. He drove a black or dark blue four-wheel-drive pickup truck which had yellow or white lights above the cab.

Woman eludes her attacker

A barmaid who works for a veteran's organization told police a man attempted to force her, at gunpoint, into his truck at East 23rd and Edna streets at 3:35 a.m. Wednesday.

The woman said she was driving home after work when she noticed a dark-colored truck behind her car on Nameoki Road. She turned off East 23rd Street and the truck continued on Nameoki Road.

When she parked her car at East 23rd and Edna streets and got out, the driver drove to her and the driver reached across, opened the passenger door of the truck and grabbed her by an arm,

Mrs. Mary Young, 73, dies

Mrs. Mary T. Young, 73, formerly of 2031 Washington Ave., died at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Madison County Nursing Home in Edwardsville.

She had been ill for the last three years and had resided at the nursing facility the past two years.

Mrs. Young was born in Leadwood, Mo. She lived in Granite City 52 years. She was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church and the Legion of Mary.

Her husband, Charles Young, died in 1959.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. William (Winifred) Clark of Eldon, Mo.; Mrs. Frank (Dolores) Durrell Sr. of Granite City and Mrs. Shirley Chmielewski of Wood River; two sons, Henry Young of Kahuku, Hawaii, and Ronald Young of Collinsville; two daughters, Edna and Joseph Trotts, both of Madison; three sisters, Mrs. Stan (Bernice) Komosa, Mrs. Jean Byrd and Mrs. Julie Goclar, all of Madison; 27 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Bazaar plans are completed

Plans were completed today for the fourth annual bazaar at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. It will be held Sunday in the cafeteria of the church at 1900 St. Clair Ave.

The bazaar will be held in conjunction with a family-style chicken dinner to be held from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tickets for the all-you-can-eat dinner are available at the door for $3.75 for adults and $1.75 for children. Children under five will be admitted free.

The general chairman for the ladies' club bazaar is Pat Adams. The group has been preparing for months, participating in workshops at the school every Thursday morning and evening.

Ornaments, necklaces, wreaths and more were worked on as a group. Many items for the bazaar were made at home by club members.

There will be five booths at the bazaar this year: 27% handmade booth will feature hand-made plaques, afghans, flower arrangements, brooms and pin holders. Chairman is Linda Beutel. Pat Knollman and Rosa Zikovich are in charge of the Christmas tree which will feature hundreds of Christmas tree ornaments, along with wreaths, stockings and advent calendars.

Assault reported

A woman who owns several buildings at the Gaslight Walk Apartments told Madison County sheriff's deputies this week that a man who had worked for her making repairs to the buildings had assaulted her early this week.

She said the man came to her home and threatened to kill her if she resisted him. He then threw her on the floor and attempted to molest her, deputies were told.

She said she tried to call deputies at the time, but the man kept pulling the telephone away from her. She managed to escape and he left, she said. Since the incident, she has been receiving obscene telephone calls, it was reported.

The woman was advised to contact the state's attorney's office to make a complaint.

Ed Dubish honored

A dinner was held to honor retiring Madison Police Commissioner Ed Ray Dubish Thursday afternoon in the Madison Firemen's Hall.

Approximately 50 Madison city officials and former officials attended.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk presented Dubish with a plaque for his "outstanding service" as a police commissioner.

Dubish has served for 14 years as a commissioner from July 1, 1965. His resignation becomes effective Sept. 30, 1979.

Dubish was first appointed by the late Mayor Stephen Maeras and then appointed by Sasyk.

Sasyk and Dubish served together on the police board under the late Mayor Maeras.

Dubish thanked those who attended for their help and cooperation over the past 19 years. He paid particular tribute to Mayor Sasyk.

Chief of Police Donald L. Bridick hosted the meeting, assisted by members of the Madison police department.

Construction scholarships being offered

Students interested in college level construction and civil engineering degree programs are eligible for up to $4,000 scholarship grants from the Associated General Contractors of America (AGC). Applications are available now through AGC and the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

Current high school seniors, college freshmen, sophomores and juniors enrolled or planning to enroll in a construction-related curriculum may apply for the scholarships, which total $1,000 for each school year.

The grants are made available through the AGC Education and Research Foundation on contributions from members of the Consulting Contractors Council of America, a group of recognized construction leaders.

In addition, college seniors or others planning to enroll full-time in a master's level construction program can compete for the Saul Horowitz Jr. Memorial Graduate Award. The recipient will be eligible for $4,000 of financial assistance for the duration of the academic program.

Applicants in both competitions are selected on the basis of demonstrated interest in a construction industry career, academic performance, financial need and extracurricular activities. Each finalist is interviewed by a local AGC contractor. Award winners will be announced at the first annual AGC Convention in Honolulu in March 1980.

All completed applications must be received by Dec. 1, 1979 at the Foundation office in Washington, D.C. 20006. The Southern Illinois Builders Association also has applications available at its offices in Belleville and Marion.

Two area students received $1,000 scholarships in the past year: James Caldwell of Carverville, a construction and design major at John Brown University in Arkansas, and Mark Tucker of Highland, a civil engineering student at Purdue University.

Bi-State—it's still growing at age 30

The Bi-State Development Agency celebrated its 30th anniversary last week with cake and coffee for over 2,300 employees. Charles G. Houghton, executive director, said the anniversary celebration "signals the beginning of a more aggressive role for Bi-State in the economic and environmental development of the region."

While Bi-State is best known for its operation of the metropolitan area public transportation system, it is more than a bus company.

Bi-State operates the tram system in the Gateway Arch, carrying its ten millionth rider to the top of the Arch last month.

The agency also acts as coordinator for the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis, which extends over 70 miles along the Mississippi River and includes seven port districts.

Bi-State owns and operates Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia, Ill., a reliever airport for Lambert St. Louis International.

The agency is also studying the feasibility of a solid waste conversion project to further protect the St. Louis environment and provide for economic development.

As for the future of the agency, Houghton said, "Bi-State's capabilities include many areas of public service which would benefit the entire region. We are hoping to exercise that potential to improve the quality of life."

He is optimistic that "during the next 30 years, the agency will be a catalyst for economic growth, and a key factor in coordinating the vast potential for progress that exists now within the area."

The Bi-State Development

Agency is a unique entity formed in September 1949 by a compact between the states of Missouri and Illinois, to serve the City of St. Louis, the Missouri counties of Jefferson, St. Charles and St. Louis, and the Illinois counties of Madison, Monroe and St. Clair.

It is empowered to plan, construct, maintain, own and operate specific facilities including bridges, airports, wharves, docks, grain elevators and air, water, rail and other terminal and community storage areas; and to conduct studies and present findings to local communities regarding public works facilities and projects.

Bi-State has no taxing powers but is authorized to issue revenue bonds, collect fees from the operation of its facilities and receive contributions.

Nameoki OKs increase in GC ambulance fees

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

People have become accustomed to the price of everything going up and that was apparently the reason the Nameoki Township Board of Trustees Monday night calmly accepted an increase in the cost for ambulance service to the township from $70 per call to $95 per call.

A letter was read from Granite City Attorney Lance Callis to the township informing it that the cost of service outside the city limits by Granite City Fire Department ambulances will increase Monday, Oct. 1.

The township receives ambulance service under a contract with the city which assures that the city will be paid for all ambulance runs involving Nameoki Township residents. When efforts to collect from an individual for ambulance service are unsuccessful, the township pays the bill and then continues efforts to collect from the patient.

Trustee W. Lee Adams commented that the contract has "worked out pretty well," and that most Nameoki Township residents have paid their ambulance bills. He noted that the board budgeted $6,000 last fiscal year for unpaid ambulance bills, but paid only $710 to the ambulance service.

"This program is coming along pretty well. I don't think we have any choice but to accept the increase," Adams said. The trustees voted unanimously to accept the increase.

The Granite City Council voted for the increase for out-of-town ambulance calls due to the loss of Manpower funding for the city's emergency medical technicians (EMTs). Effective Oct. 1, the city must pay the full salaries of the EMTs, rather than having Manpower pay the first $10,000 annually of each EMT's salary, increasing the cost of operating the ambulances an estimated $140,000 per year.

The cost of ambulance calls within Granite City also was increased, from $50 per call to $75 per call, as the result of the end of the Manpower subsidy.

Trustee W. Lee Adams commented that the contract has "worked out pretty well," and that most

Large rats baffle Nameoki officials

Problems with rats, mosquitoes and high weeds dominated much of Monday night's Nameoki Town Board meeting.

After hearing complaints from several township residents that large rats are inhabiting parts of the township, Supervisor Harold Davis, threw up his hands and stated, "I wish I had an answer."

He said the township cannot issue rat poison to individuals without endangering itself to the possibility of a lawsuit if the poison kills children or pets. "The state gave me a brochure to give to residents on how to keep their homes and yards clean and free of rats, but we cannot force people to keep their yards clean."

"If we get someone to clean up his yard, a month later, we have the problem again," Davis said, noting the problem is increasing due to sewer construction work and to woodpiles from those who have fireplaces. "Sewers, wood piles, dogfood, garbage, all draw rats. I can't make people get rid of them," the supervisor said.

Trustee Andrew Besserman said that many of the complaints the township health officer get repeatedly are on properties where the ownership either is being contested in court or where absentee landlords are difficult to locate.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a precinct committeewoman and former health officer for the township, noted that the health officer had answered only 13 new complaints and made 10 follow-up checks during August, and said she did not feel that was enough. "When I was health officer, I used to turn in 80 calls a month," she contended. Davis explained that the health officer was on vacation part of August, but Mrs. Hawkins said she has studied all recent reports and found them about the same as August.

Trustee W. Lee Adams responded, "There has not been a complaint made to the township that Jerry Telfor (health officer) has not been out on. It sounds like we are not getting very many complaints."

Family life education courses to start here

By SUE BORSTEIN Coordinator of Community Education
Mental Health Clinic,
Quad-City Center

Would you like to learn and share ideas on how to handle your children, your boss or ex-spouse? Or maybe increase your understanding of yourself and how the world affects you?

Family Life Education (FLE) is a new program offered at the Mental Health Clinic, Quad-City Center.

Four FLE groups—stress management workshop, survival skills for parents, families of divorce, and assertive training—are available to all residents in the Madison County area.

A minimum of ten people is needed for each group to start. Child care is available at minimal charge. Details of the FLE program are as follows:

FAMILIES OF DIVORCE

A separation or divorce can be difficult for both parents and children. They often experience loneliness, tension, visitation problems, and rejection by friends and family.

There are over one million divorces in the United States annually, and much emotional suffering is often the result.

A seven-week group will be offered simultaneously—one for divorced parents, and the other for children of these parents to discuss these and other problem areas.

Mondays, Oct. 8, 15, 23 and 29 and Nov. 5, 12 and 19, 5:30-7 p.m. Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, Granite City. Cost: $21 per parent, $10.50 per child.

STRESS MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP

This four-week group will focus on understanding the physical, psychological and social aspects of stress and the understanding of how stress can affect one's life.

One man said he had killed a rat with a body 10 inches long and a six-inch tail near Wabash Avenue north of Pontoon Road. Davis said he would have the health officer investigate.

Mrs. Hawkins also said she had spoken to one woman who contracted encephalitis and said she was bitten by a mosquito in Nameoki Township.

Davis said he checked the report and found the incident occurred in June 1978 and there was no way to tell if she was bitten in the township. The case was reported in Missouri by her doctor, Davis said.

He added the township office has received several complaints that the mosquito spray unit does not put out as much spray as it should. He explained that the old one used a fog where the new one uses a more effective spray. "Highway Commission kill more mosquitoes," the supervisor stated.

High weeds in several areas were discussed and Davis said he intended to bring Paul Hawkins, Madison County building and zoning administrator, to the township for a tour of the problem areas.

Speaking of one lot on Vine Street, Davis said, "This shouldn't be our problem. The county tore down a house on Vine Street and should have seen that the ground was leveled and taken care of."

One man objected to high weeds in the Shirlene Drive holding pond and suggested the pond area be mowed before it rains, since it is dry now. Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelich said he would attempt to get a tractor into the pond this week to cut the weeds.

Davis said he has hit a "dead end" in his efforts to halt dumping and burning of trash in the Eagle Park Acres area. "I called Paul Hawkins and he was no help. If the people would get a license number of anyone dumping and then call the sheriff's department, we might be able to follow-up. 'It is unsightly and smelly, but I don't know what else to do at the moment,'" Davis concluded.

Tuesdays, Oct. 2-Oct. 29, 7-9 p.m. Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, Granite City. Cost: $12 per person or $18 per couple. SURVIVAL SKILLS FOR PARENTS (parents of children ages 5-12).

As a parent, experiences many changes as children grow older, enter school and gain new friends.

This six-week group will focus on communication between parent and child, on building a good self-image in children, on school and peers as spheres of influence, on rewards and punishments and on sibling rivalry.

Wednesdays, Oct. 3, 10, 17 and 24 and Nov. 7 and 14, 7-9 p.m. Cost: $10 per person, $27 per couple.

ASSERTIVE TRAINING

Assertiveness is a skill that enables people to speak up for their own rights, state their own opinions and feelings, refuse unreasonable requests, and give compliments. All of these can be done in a way in which a person does not infringe upon someone else's rights.

This seven-week skill building group uses exercises, homework assignments, and practice within the group to teach assertiveness rather than nonassertive or aggressive behavior.

A group on assertive training will begin on Tuesday nights in early October.

To enroll in any of the four Family Life Education groups, Quad-Cityans may contact the coordinator of community education at 877-4420.

THEFT FROM GARAGE

A $170 battery charger, an impact wrench and a $70 bicycle were stolen from the unlocked garage at the home of John Lill, 2811 Nameoki Drive, last week.

Blood drive Saturday at Chouteau

Chouteau Township officials and several Mitchell area civic associations will hold a blood drive Saturday at the township hall from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on behalf of the American Red Cross.

Chouteau Town Trustee Marion Sparks is organizer of the drive, which will be aided by the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department, the Mitchell Athletic Club, township senior citizens, church groups and other volunteers.

Donors are badly needed, a spokesman said. Although donors will be welcomed at the door without reservations, those who wish to reduce the time it takes to give blood may reserve a time by calling the township office at 931-0323 before 4 p.m. Friday.

New pastor at Southern Baptist

Two installation services for the Rev. William J. Wise are planned at 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 5, and 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 7, at Southern Missionary Baptist Church, 921 Bissell St., Madison, it was announced this week.

Faces 2 felony charges

Clyde Sanders Jr., 32, of 1207 Rhodes St., was charged with two felony counts of retail theft in informational documents issued Monday by the Madison County state's attorney's office.

The documents allege that Saturday, Sanders and a 14-year-old boy went to Central Hardware in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, took two electrically-operated airplanes valued at $286 each and placed them in a carton from which they had removed a child's bicycle seat.

They then paid the $18 price tag on the box and removed the items from the store.

Rev. Wise resides with his wife and two children in Cool Valley, Mo.

He was called to serve as pastor of the local church July 22, while serving as associate pastor of Pleasant Green Missionary Baptist Church in St. Louis.

At the Friday, Oct. 5, service, the Rev. Hosea Gales, pastor of New Bethlehem Baptist Church, St. Louis, will be the guest speaker.

Serving as master of ceremonies that evening will be the Rev. Charles Water, pastor of Canaan Galilee Baptist Church, 307 Allen St., Eagle Park.

Guest speaker at the 3 p.m. services Oct. 7 will be the Rev. H. W. Berry, pastor of Pleasant Green Missionary Baptist Church.

A fellowship dinner for the congregation and friends will precede the Sunday program from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. Roy Van Dyke Griggs Sr.

He is a graduate of Sumner High School, St. Louis, and attended Brooks Bible Institute there. He began studying for the ministry in 1971 and was ordained the following year. Rev. Wise also is employed at the Chevrolet Corp. plant in St. Louis.

Madison dance on Wednesday

The first in a series of "teen" dances, under the sponsorship of the Madison Recreation department, will be held Wednesday, Oct. 3. Recreation Director Sam Dymas announced the dance would be held in the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets, Madison, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Music will be furnished by a band called "Departure." Admission is $1 per person and there will be a 50 cent entry fee charged anyone leaving the building and returning.

"As we did last year, it is our hope to be able to bring several dances to the center for the youth during the school term. This worked out very well last year. The dances were well attended and everyone seemed to have a good time," Dymas said.

Geologists, university zero in on subsidence

The problem of mine subsidence has become well known only recently, but SIUE professors have been working on the problem for the past 15 years.

Ron Yarbrough, associate professor of earth sciences, geography and planning, first encountered the problem when he came to the university in 1964. At that time, homeowners would come to the university with suspicions that their homes were suffering from subsidence damage.

Yarbrough says so little was known about the problem then that it was hard to give the homeowners an opinion.

As the university became more involved in subsidence research, professors began to serve as expert witnesses in subsidence damage cases. This was sometimes risky for the witness.

Yarbrough recalled that several students checking for subsidence damage were asked to leave a neighborhood by residents who were afraid that if the damage was reported, their property values would drop.

There was no protection for the homeowners then. Now Yarbrough, along with Bob Porevra of the Illinois State Geological Survey (ISGS), is working on a report to the Illinois state legislature to support the mine subsidence insurance bill due to go into effect this fall.

The legislation is intended to allow homeowners to purchase $50,000 worth of subsidence insurance for approximately $10 a year. Any insurance company which sells fire protection will have to participate in the subsidence program.

Areas known to have been undermined will have an automatic "rollback" feature on insurance premiums. In these areas, homeowners will have to ask to have the feature removed from their policies. Porevra said 34 of the 102 Illinois counties will have this feature.

"The insurance bill is the key to protecting people," Yarbrough said. He advised anyone living in the upland areas of St. Clair and Madison counties to apply for the insurance.

"Before, it was the individual homeowner against the coal companies," Porevra said. "Now the insurance companies will go after the culprit."

The two researchers have developed a spatial analysis of underground areas in the state, plus a subsidence insurance brochure. They have trained claims adjusters to detect subsidence damage.

Another member of the SIUE subsidence research team is Paul Ehret, a recent graduate of the master's program in the earth sciences, geography and planning department. A fulltime ISGS employee, he is working with the U.S. Department of Energy to determine the economic cost to coal mining caused by subsidence.

Ehret said subsidence can take place in a mined area to 70 years after the coal has been removed. The Energy Department is concerned with subsidence because the methods of mining to the coal companies, to allow subsidence to occur more quickly, or directing the companies to areas which won't be urbanly developed in the future.

"We want to see which method will cause the least damage," Ehret said. "We can lower the cost of coal by planning for future subsidence."

The department of engineering and technology at SIUE is also involved in subsidence research. It is working with members of the ISGS under the direction of Paul DuMontelle, coordinator of environmental geology.

Robert Gibson, a recent master's program graduate at SIUE, is employed by the ISGS and is working with the engineers in studying the earth's movements in mined-out areas.

"Backfill projects, which consist of injecting material into mines to close them so they won't cause any damage by being studied for their effectiveness," he said.

"We want to define the movement so we can do architectural designs to prevent problems (from subsidence)."

Steven Hanna and Daniel Cote, both of the SIUE engineering department, have set up points to measure the earth's movements in two experimental backfill sites in Maryville and Belleville and a site on the university campus which is not undermined. This site is used to make comparisons with the two undermined areas.

"The magnitude of the movements have not been measured extensively," Hanna said. "We want to find out how much movement may have occurred to cause damage. The end result is to know how much movement will occur and how to build around it."

Overall, the SIUE subsidence project involves 17 people, composed of faculty members and students, and funded by the ISGS.

"We're working with a phenomenon we don't know everything about," Yarbrough said. "But we're close to the phenomenon." He praised the large number of instruments available for research use here and the variety of disciplines involved in the project. According to Cote, SIUE is the first institution to initiate such a multi-faceted program in subsidence research.

Guidelines for EOC head start meal ratings

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission announced Tuesday that it will participate in the Child Care Food Program for youngsters attending Day Care Centers in the head-start program from Oct. 1 through Sept. 30, 1980.

As in the schools, free meal allotments and the cost of the meals will be determined by income guidelines established by the federal government.

Guidelines for meal eligibility call for maximum income of $4,590 for free meals in a family of one, and $5,040 for reduced price meals in the same category; in a family of two, maximum income is $5,040 for free meals and $5,420 for reduced price meals.

Other guidelines are family of three, $7,490 and $11,880; four, $8,940 and $13,940; five, $10,390 and $16,200; six, $11,840 and $18,720; seven, $13,290 and $20,720; eight, $14,740 and $22,990. For each additional member of the family an additional $1,450 and 2,260 are added to each column.

Each child enrolled in head start in child day care centers will be provided breakfast, lunch and supper. The meals will be provided at no cost to families whose children qualify under the guidelines. Information about the program may be obtained by calling the Madison County EOC office at 462-9110.

Both students are members of the 17-person subsidence research team at SIUE.

EARL S. BEARD
New academic chief has long experience

Earl S. Beard, assistant vice-president for academic personnel administration at SIUE and now the acting vice-president and provost, has become the chief academic officer of the local university.

Acting President Earl E. Lazerson, who has been vice-president and provost since March 1976, made the announcement. The SIUE board has named Lazerson as acting president, filling the position left vacant by the appointment of SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw as chancellor of the SIU System.

Beard has been assistant to the vice-president and provost since September 1978, exercising responsibility for general administration of academic personnel policies and procedures.

In that position, he assisted faculty and staff in planning programs of professional development, and advised and assisted other administrators concerning governance, promotion and tenure policies and appeals procedures.

Beard was named a special assistant to Lazerson in July 1977. A member of the SIUE faculty since 1967, he is a professor of history and had served as dean of the School of Social Sciences from 1967 to 1972.

For the next five years, he accepted a variety of other administrative roles, including service as chairman of the Graduate Council and coordinator of the university self-study report for the North Central Association. He also was a member of various committees of the University Senate.

His previous administrative experience includes four years as dean of the Shoybogan County Center of the University of Wisconsin, two years as head of the Social Sciences Division of Mansfield State College in Pennsylvania, and two years as director of the Kansas State University Correspondence Study Program.

Beard began his teaching career in 1953 at the University of Maryland. A native of St. Louis, he completed his master's and doctoral degrees in history at the University of Iowa after undergraduate studies at St. Louis University and Baylor University. Beard and his wife, Betty, reside in Edwardsville.

Softball banquet at church

The men and women's softball teams of City Temple Assembly of God Church held their second annual softball banquet the past week.

Team members and their families attended the event, together with Pastor and Mrs. A. E. Cope and Bob Taylor, who coaches both squads.

A poem, roasting Taylor was written and read by Cheryl Stephen, both of City Temple.

Taylor also was presented with a gift and a trophy commemorating his year as coach.

The City Temple men's 3-A team placed first in the church league, with the women's team placing fourth in the 2-A league.

$6,156 burglary at Reese's

Items valued at about $6,156, including a $5,000 photocopy machine, were stolen during a burglary at the Reese Drug Co. office and warehouse at 1907 Cleveland Blvd., it was discovered Monday.

Entry was gained by prying open a door and several cabinets were moved and searched. Officials believe at least two burglars were involved, due to the weight and bulk of the photocopy machine.

Also taken were two electric typewriters valued at $600 and $375, an iron, two blenders, a perculator, a coffee maker, a popcorn popper, coffee filters, a toaster and two electric can openers.

BREAK WINDOWS
Windows in three trucks parked at L&W Movers, 2608 Washington Ave., were broken during the weekend, it was discovered Monday. Police believe rocks were thrown at the windows, breaking one in each of the three trucks.

Carter call-in program

KWUM-FM 91 will broadcast an exclusive national call-in program with President Jimmy Carter on Saturday, Oct. 13, at 11 a.m.

Originating live from the White House Oval Office, the two-hour National Public Radio broadcast will allow listeners to question the chief executive on any subject they choose.

Persons who wish to talk with the president are to send a postcard to "Ask the President," c/o National Public Radio, P.O. Box 19369, Washington, D.C. 20036.

The card should list name, address and telephone number and should not state the question in advance. There will be no pre-screening of questions. During the program, NPR personnel will select cards at random and place a call to the listener.

In announcing the broadcast, NPR President Frank Mackiewicz said, "This is only the second time that the president has agreed to talk informally with people all over the country on national radio. Given our mandate to inform the American audience, we are delighted that he has agreed to talk to the public on National Public Radio."

The only other national presidential radio call-in program took place early in Mr. Carter's first year in office when he became the first president ever to do a call-in program.

Camelot offers wide selection

Probably the biggest social event in the area for the past several years has been and still is the joint sponsored Rotary-Optimist Camelot Auction.

Camelot is an event with a purpose.

The purpose is to raise money for the two local service club's civic and charitable projects which benefit the entire area.

The event is being held at the Sunset Hill Country Club, Saturday, Oct. 6, beginning with a buffet dinner.

Following dinner the fun begins with a fast paced auction of just about everything one can think of.

The items auctioned vary in price from a few dollars to several hundred and the variety of items to choose from staggers the imagination.

Just a few of the items donated are: a roll top desk, a 40-gallon gas water heater, 75 gallons of gasoline, two original antique school house clocks, authentic oriental rugs, and a French phone with stand.

For the baseball fan a 1944 autographed baseball with 25 genuine signatures of Red Sox and Cardinal baseball greats on it will be sold.

Then there is an ice cream sundae party for 10, a waterfall crystal decanter, airplane rides, two 12-gauge shotguns, hot air balloon ride, an eleven cubic foot refrigerator, a yard of finished concrete, a moped and an eight foot by 10 foot utility building.

Want to play Kojak? A four-hour tour of duty with an official Granite City policeman will also be auctioned.

Edward Albee, whose plays include several Pulitzer Prize winners, will provide instruction in the writing process, concentrating on how writers conceive ideas, develop them and ultimately find markets for their work.

Two workshops have been scheduled for theater majors on Monday, Oct. 1. A creative writing workshop for SIUE students will provide instruction in the writing process, concentrating on how writers conceive ideas, develop them and ultimately find markets for their work.

A second workshop, focusing on acting and directing, will give students the basic knowledge in theatrical principles through scenes from one of Albee's plays. Both workshops are intended for students with a serious interest in creative writing and in the theater.

Albee will lecture on "The Playwright vs. The Theater" Tuesday, Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Communications Building theater. Admission is free.

The lecture will include a discussion of the state of the American theater — its problems, strengths and future.

Albee is most noted for the play, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

Albee's first Pulitzer winner, "Seascape" was his second work to gain such distinction. He is also author of "Tiny Alice," "The Death of Bessie Smith" and "The Lady From Dubuque."

Albee feels that a good play is one with something to say and the ability to say it. "A play should bring its audience some special sense of awareness of the times and alter and shape that awareness in some significant manner."

Growing up in a famed theatrical family, Albee began writing plays at the age of five and writing shortly afterward. His first composition attempts were in poetry, later graduating to fiction.

Albee quit writing when he was 25 and did not resume until five years later, when he produced "The Zoo Story," "The Sandbox," "The American Dream" and other plays. In 1962 came "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" bringing to the writer instant international fame.

Two workshops have been scheduled for theater majors on Monday, Oct. 1. A creative writing workshop for SIUE students will provide instruction in the writing process, concentrating on how writers conceive ideas, develop them and ultimately find markets for their work.

A second workshop, focusing on acting and directing, will give students the basic knowledge in theatrical principles through scenes from one of Albee's plays. Both workshops are intended for students with a serious interest in creative writing and in the theater.

Albee will lecture on "The Playwright vs. The Theater" Tuesday, Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Communications Building theater. Admission is free.

The lecture will include a discussion of the state of the American theater — its problems, strengths and future.

Albee is most noted for the play, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

Albee's first Pulitzer winner, "Seascape" was his second work to gain such distinction. He is also author of "Tiny Alice," "The Death of Bessie Smith" and "The Lady From Dubuque."

Albee feels that a good play is one with something to say and the ability to say it. "A play should bring its audience some special sense of awareness of the times and alter and shape that awareness in some significant manner."

Growing up in a famed theatrical family, Albee began writing plays at the age of five and writing shortly afterward. His first composition attempts were in poetry, later graduating to fiction.

Albee quit writing when he was 25 and did not resume until five years later, when he produced "The Zoo Story," "The Sandbox," "The American Dream" and other plays. In 1962 came "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" bringing to the writer instant international fame.

By CHARLES PRICE

The first industrial accident may have occurred when a stone-age man smashed his finger while chipping a piece of flint to make a knife. Since that time, people have found numberless ways of doing harm to themselves and others.

Today, the ways of doing harm to ourselves may be more sophisticated but the results remain the same: pain, suffering, disablement, and too many times, death.

Unfortunately, current accident statistics show no indications of a downturn in the number of accidents. If anything, they are increasing despite major legislation — the federal Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) — and much public attention focused on the problems of accidents.

Causes for the increase in accidents are unclear and frequently disputed. However, a major dispute centers around the methods and procedures used to implement OSHA and the lack of on-site consultation as part of the implementation process.

Smaller businesses have been particularly vehement about the lack of consultation.

They claim they would like to comply with federal safety and health standards but cite their lack of staff or funds to do so.

headquartered at 160 N. LaSalle St., Rm. 318, Chicago 60601 and maintains a tollfree hotline (800-972-4216) from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A call to this number will secure free, confidential on-site consultation for any business in Illinois.

Collectively, the 35-person staff of Illinois' On-Site Consultation Program possesses more than 350 years of experience and training in safety and health problems. Much of the staff's experience was gained in industry.

At one time or another, many of them worked in areas associated with stamping, hot and cold forging, foundries, plastics, chemicals, cement and much public attention focused on the problems of accidents.

Each has had extensive safety and health training at universities, colleges and countless seminars.

If a problem arises which lies outside the consultant's expertise or requires additional insights, other consultants with training or experience in the problem area can be called in to assist.

In effect, Illinois businesses can add a highly experienced and trained safety and health consultant to their staff without incurring the expense of a full-time employee or a leg.

Upon receiving a request for assistance, the consultant will arrange a convenient appointment time to make a partial or complete survey of the company's premises and operations.

After the initial survey, the consultant will hold a brief conference to gain preliminary information, answer questions about OSHA regulations and explain the liabilities under the Act.

The consultant will then make a thorough survey of the operations as requested, preferably accompanied by the plant owner, manager or designer.

Upon completion of the survey, the consultant will orally review the survey's findings and make recommendations on the ways and means to correct those items which require more than in-house adjustment can provide.

A confidential written report will follow the survey, reiterating the oral consultation and try to answer all questions. If it does not, it costs nothing to contact the consultant again for further clarification.

The Illinois On-Site Consultation Program is designed to be simple in operation, confidential in nature, and readily available at no charge to fill a need for Illinois businesses: the reduction or elimination of accidents and health hazards in the work place which annually cost business and industry millions of dollars.

Steel shot required for 13 public hunting areas

Illinois waterfowl hunters using 12-gauge shotguns will be required to use non-toxic steel shot this season while hunting on 10 state-managed areas and three federal refuges.

Areas designated as steel shot areas by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service include Horseshoe Lake, Alexander County; Union County Wildlife Area; Stump Lake, Jersey County; Sangamon Conservation Area, Cass County; Sangamon County; Oakwood Bottoms, Jackson County; Carlyle Lake, Clinton County; Rice Lake, Fulton County; and Mermet Lake, Macon County.

The Upper Mississippi River, Chautauqua and Crab Orchard federal refuges also are steel-shot areas.

Waterfowlers hunting these areas with 12-gauge shotguns this year must use shells loaded with steel shot.

Next year, USFWS plans to expand the regulations to include all shotguns being used on designated areas.

Steel shot regulations were first introduced in 1977 and have been the focus of an ongoing controversy since that time.

Wildlife biologists have documented some waterfowl hunting area where the use of lead shot has resulted in duck population losses.

Ducks diving for seeds and small mollusks often accidentally ingest spent lead shot and subsequently die of lead poisoning.

Opponents of steel shot regulations claim that the ballistics of non-toxic shot are such that the loss of ducks through crippling exceeds the loss of ducks from lead poisoning when lead shot is used.

Last year, under federally imposed regulations, steel shot was required for 12-gauge shotguns throughout 14 Illinois counties and on 40 specified waterfowl hunting areas.

This year, the USFWS allowed the state to have a bigger say in established steel shot regulations. Department of Conservation chief waterfowl biologist Bill Allen said.

Rather than using a county-wide approach, we've tried to establish steel shot areas where there are known losses of waterfowl from lead poisoning or where the shot ingestion rate is in excess of six percent, which would create a potential for lead poisoning.

Allen said the DOC plans to intensify its gizzard collection program to better determine areas where steel shot regulations may be needed in the future.

For waterfowlers who are concerned how steel shot will affect their hunting prowess, Allen offers these hints for using steel shot.

1. Do not attempt shots over 45 yards. Most hunters have difficulty in consistently making clean kills of waterfowl with any load at ranges of more than 45 yards.

With steel shot, it is particularly important for hunters to restrict their shooting within this range to be most effective.

2. Purchase steel loads that have as high a muzzle velocity as possible. It is recommended that steel shot loads with velocities of at least 1,350 feet per second be used.

Magnum shells should be closely scrutinized, since many of these shells produce slow velocities.

3. Pattern your gun with the steel shot loads you will be using prior to the season. Check penetration by shooting at a plywood back-board.

The lead distance you have developed using lead loads may also have to be adjusted somewhat, using the faster steel loads.

4. Use one or two shot sizes larger than you are used to. Pellet numbers are not significantly decreased with this change.

Since most steel loads pattern better than commonly used lead loads, very little pattern density is lost by using larger steel shot sizes. Experts recommend that 45 and 28 be used for ducks and 15 pr BBs for geese.

5. Use a more open choked barrel. The very tight patterns produced by steel shot hamper all but the expert shooter.

Modified and even improved cylinder bores will give much better performance for the average hunter within the recommended ranges.

SEEBOLD BURGLARY
Items valued at more than $1,000 were stolen during a burglary at Seebold Concrete Co., 22nd Street and the railroad tracks. It was discovered Thursday. Entry was gained by prying off a section of the garage door. Taken were an air impact wrench worth $300, a $110 electric hand grinder, a battery charger, an assortment of new truck tail light assemblies and a tool box containing about $500 worth of tools.

MOTORCYCLIST HURT
Edward Stovall, 22, of 2518 Madison Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 11:20 p.m. Sunday suffering lacerations to the right side and face, abrasions to both hands and elbows and a bruise over the right eye. He allegedly collided at Market and State streets, Venice, with an auto driven by Lisa A. Meehan, 20, of 445 Lincoln Ave., Venice.

Mrs. Finch feted with shower.

Mrs. Mike Finch was honored last week with a surprise baby shower. She is the former Miss Lori Modlin. The event was hosted by the honoree's sister, Daria Modlin, and her sister-in-law Kathy Modlin, and was held in the home of the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Modlin.

Guests were Bernice Beavin, Katherine Heid, Peggy Modlin, Carol Mouldon, Gertrude Leary, Sean Kuberski, and Laura Mouldon, Wilma Finch, Jan Hildreth, Mary Kuberski, Pat Barton, Lori Mezo and Cassy-Lynn Hildreth, each of whom won a prize.

Jean Krakowiecki, Richard Scott marry

Miss Jean Krakowiecki became the bride of Richard L. Scott Sept. 8 at St. Martin of Tours Church in Washington Park during an afternoon ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Krakowiecki of Washington Park. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scott Sr. of Madison.

Jo Ann Rheinecker was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were LuAnn Pfau, Ann Hampel, Catherine Krakowiecki and Linda Morgan.

Edwin Wieggers was best man. Groomsmen were David Laskowski, Daniel Weir, Randall Easton and Tom Belz. Guests were seated by Steve Krakowiecki and David Nester.

The bride graduated from St. Teresa Academy in E. St. Louis in 1973 and from St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing in 1976. She is employed as a registered nurse at Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

The groom is a 1970 graduate of Assumption High School and a 1972 graduate of Belleville Area College. He is employed by the St. Clair County Sheriff's Department.

The couple will reside in Belleville.

Creative Women aiding 4-H Club

The Creative Women Home Extension unit held its September meeting at Hope Lutheran Church. The meeting was called to order by Arla Auli and the pledge of allegiance was said. The selected topic was "Portable Appliances," and presentation was given by Assistant Home Extension Adviser Geri Bower.

After the topic was presented, members of the unit volunteered to attend training sessions at the Extension Service office in Edwardsville. These members will then present future topics to the entire unit.

Minutes were read by Nancy Choat, secretary, and the treasurer's report was given by Sylvia Massman. Members discussed the unit's family picnic, held at Wilson Park.

Joanna Spencer gave a 4-H report, stating that the local 4-H club, the 58'ers, has at least 25 members this fall. The next meeting will be Oct. 4 at St. John United Church of Christ at 7 p.m. All unit members were encouraged to help recruit new members for 4-H, since many projects are available for young people of all abilities and interests.

Unit members decided to hold future meetings in the homes of members. The next meeting will be held at Joanna Spencer's home on Oct. 15.

Unit members filled out a survey concerning information received from the Cooperative Extension Service.

Hostesses for the evening were Nancy Choat and Debbie Harshany. Others present were Louise Ware, Donna Warren, Judy Baker, Margaret Buske, Martha Leavell, Diane Gebhardt and a guest, Lucille Schaefer.

JULY 1980 WEDDING PLANS.

Tammy Jo Eberle and Robert Dean Corrie are planning their wedding. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Eberle of Edwardsville.

Corrie-Eberle engagement

Miss Tammy Jo Eberle and Robert Dean Corrie are planning to be married in July 1980.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. Eberle of Edwardsville. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gale W. Corrie of Collinsville.

Miss Eberle attended Collinsville High School. She is employed as a bank teller at First Bank of Maryville. She is also attending Belleville Area College.

The prospective groom also attended Collinsville High School and is employed at M.D. Hauling in Troy. The wedding is scheduled to take place at Our Lord's Lutheran Church in Maryville.

Christmas banquet discussed

Club women hear students and Early American music

Mrs. Naoma Williams of Vergennes, Ill., furnished the program for the Nameoki Woman's Club at its opening meeting last week at the Nameoki Recreational Center.

Mrs. Williams displayed, explained and played a collection of Early American musical instruments, all of which she said could be classified as zithers. They bore various names, such as a dulcimer, a psalter and many harps.

Mrs. Irma Taylor, president, welcomed the members and guests and presided at the short business meeting.

A dessert luncheon was served by hostesses Mesdames Blanche Blake, Mary Werner and Claudia Lentz. High school students who were recipients of the club's summer scholarships were present. They told of their experiences and thanked the members for the opportunity to attend the various institutions.

Student Laura Ohanesian displayed samples of ceramics and paintings she accomplished at the University of Illinois.

Band students Debbie Reeves, Tim Passig and Joy Williams reviewed their experience at SIU at Carbondale, and with their director, Joe Owens, played a short instrumental quartet number.

Mrs. Janette Krause of fered prayer before the luncheon and Mrs. Ella Mae Harsh led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Three guests, Mrs. Frances Wade, Mrs. Doris Blumenstock and Mrs. Dorothy Buente, were introduced.

In addition to those named, also present at the meeting were Mesdames Margaret Aronovitz, Ethel Beeler, Mildred Branding, Betty Caldwell, Bernadine Cooley, Muriel Dressel, Maud Graham, Harriet Horn, Carrie Jansen, Ertha Johnson, Claudia Lentz, Dorothy McCauley, Millie Meek, Marian Shelton, Verma Stuart and Ella Wade, and Misses Lucinda Huck and Hazel Towery.

BETROTHED. Miss Alice Ross and Mark Reinhardt plan a November wedding. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reinhardt, Granite City. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Ross, of Granby, Mo.

Reinhardt-Ross betrothal

The engagement of Miss Alice Ross, of Granby, Mo., and Mark Reinhardt, of Madison, Wis., is being announced by the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reinhardt of Granite City.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Ross, of Granby, and the late Calvin Ross.

graduate of Newton High School, Granby, and a 1979 graduate of the School of the Ozarks, Branson, Mo. The prospective groom is a 1972 graduate of Granite City High School and a 1977 graduate of SIUE. He is employed as a news reporter at radio station WHA, Madison.

Plans are being made for a Nov. 24 wedding.

ATTENDS WEDDING

Marie Whittle, 2922 E. 29th St., has just returned home from Texas where she attended the wedding of her daughter, Joyce Marie Doran, and Ward B. Whittle. The wedding took place in Richardson, Tex. The Rev. Ray Flachmeier of Garland, Tex., performed the ceremony.

Ethnic theme

An ethnic theme was chosen for the first meeting of the year of the Granite City Association of Educational Secretaries, held Monday evening at South High.

Among the guests for the evening were Mrs. LaVerna Corbitt, a guidance counselor at South, who introduced Maarit Pietarsa, a foreign exchange student from Finland.

Miss Pietarsa gave a talk on her life in Finland and told the group of her reasons for wanting to come to America. She told of talks with other foreign exchange students who said that the year they spent in this country was one of the best years of their lives.

Mrs. Helen Veloff, a teacher at South, introduced Mrs. Anne Vasiloff Gurnow and Mrs. Vera Smolar. They were authentic costumes from Macedonia and Czechoslovakia, respectively.

A session in ethnic dance was held for the members, led by Mrs. Veloff.

Hostesses for the meeting were Irene Hatcher, Vera Smolar, Betty Harris and Dorothy Luckert. Program chairman for the year is Mrs. Pat Uzunoff. Mrs. Berta Milonis is president of the organization.

Ethnic dishes of cheese pita, greek cheese and black olives were served in keeping with the theme for the evening, along with nutmeats and apple Danish.

Cradle shower

A cradle shower was given Sunday for Mrs. Mary Goodrich of Collinsville at the St. Elizabeth's Church hall. Hostesses were Mrs. Annette Pulaski, sister, and Mrs. Kit Richardson, aunt.

The gift table was centered with a tall yellow and pale orange giraffe holding a baby. Yellow and orange streamers were suspended from the ceiling to the table.

The refreshment table was a yellow and orange mixture of flowers, flanked by tall lighted tapers. Games were played and prizes were awarded. Jane Wallace, Kim Worster and Debbie Graham were among the day's prize winners.

Mrs. Goodrich is the former Mary Favier of Granite City.

Ladies Sodality meets

St. Elizabeth's Ladies Sodality met Tuesday night, with a party shower for the Sisters being the featured event. The meeting was hosted by the fifth grade room mothers.

The program was given by Mrs. Ingrid Anderson, of the American Red Cross, who gave a talk on the organization's blood program.

Grade 5A won the attendance prize and Jan Polach won the Madonna prize. A prize was also won by Ann Fare.

The sixth grade room mothers will host the next meeting.

Xi Epsilon Chi meets

Members of Xi Epsilon Chi sorority met, with Jan Monaghan serving as hostess. President Judy Bartel presided.

Guests Janet Hans, Barbara Smith, Anastasia Elieff, Ellen Wilson, Betty Beck, Gloria Counts and Maria Graham were introduced by vice-president Carol Cathey.

The treasurer's report was given by Terri Asadorian and Cookie White reported on ways and means projects for the upcoming year.

Carol Cathey presented a program on polar regions, assisted by Helen Hall, Barbara Hents, B. J. Jones, Marilyn Lumpkins, Joan Pritchard and Vickie Thomas.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Vickie Thomas.

Protestant Welfare aids 36

Central Free Methodist Church hosted the September meeting of the Protestant Welfare Association and the host pastor, the Rev. H. Richard Schuetz, gave the devotion.

President George Hopkins conducted the meeting. Mrs. Minnie Dillard read the minutes and Mrs. Norma Petty submitted the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Norma Petty, office secretary, presented a summary of aid given in August. She said 14 cases involving 36 persons were processed for a total of $497.

The next meeting will be held at the Pontoon Baptist Church and means projects by refreshments.

Hairdressers' style show Sunday, Oct. 7

National Beauty Salon Week will start Sunday, Oct. 7, and an official document proclaiming the observance in the local community was signed last week by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Launching the week-long celebration will be the annual hair fashion and style show, set Oct. 7, sponsored by the Elite Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Affiliate 33 of Granite City.

Sheila Morgan, affiliate president, said Loretta Brown will serve as chairman of this year's show, with Sally Roberts as her co-chairman.

The event will take place at the Moose Lodge Hall, 19th and Adams streets, starting at 2 p.m.

Tickets for the show are available at local beauty salons, or may be obtained at the door. Mrs. Morgan said, in addition to the traditional extravaganza, featuring the latest clothing fashions and hair styles, which benefits charitable organizations, local beauticians will volunteer their services to other worthy causes during the week, the officer said.

Senator sees need for a regulatory revolution

By GORDON J. HUMPHREY
U.S. Senator (R)
New Hampshire

Behind the national drive toward a constitutional amendment to mandate a balanced federal budget is the stark realization that we are caught up in a vicious fiscal cycle which derives its power from deficit financing.

Deficit financing expands the money supply, which drives up the cost of living, which forces the government to take new steps to control the economy, which produces more deficit financing, which further expands the money supply—and so on.

For decades now, the American people have been sold the erroneous notion that regulation by government is the answer to every economic and social problem.

For just as long, we have acted and reacted on the assumption that the continued growth of regulation government intrusion into the mechanism of a free market—is inevitable. We may have come to the end of the grand illusion.

The federal budget approved last year was the highest in our nation's history, $484 billion. This year, the president's budget will set a new record. It calls for an increase to $532 billion, a gain of 7.7 percent. Consider that in 1967, the federal outlays were $158.2 billion; this year's proposed outlays of $532 billion indicate the runaway growth of government. Since 1967, federal budget outlays have increased by an astonishing 237 percent.

Huge, increasing costs of government activities have resulted in a growing burden of taxation, higher income taxes, higher property taxes and higher Social Security taxes.

As people begin to realize the true size of the bill—and who ends up paying for it—they will join in the clamor for reform.

In 1977 alone, the price we all paid for government regulation totaled more than $100 billion.

Of this, over $5 billion was for administrative costs—federal, state and local. On the federal level alone, more than $3 billion was consumed in salaries and supplies for the army of 100,000 workers who staff the 41 regulatory agencies.

Outlays of these agencies have increased by 100 percent over the past five years. We are suffering through the greatest regulatory revolution America has ever known. In the last 15 years, almost 250 agencies, departments, bureaus and commissions have been created at the federal level.

Only 21 have been eliminated. Today, there are more than 1,000 different federal programs and 87 government agencies whose job it is to oversee every aspect of our daily living.

As a result of all this regulation, our progress as a nation has gradually slowed. We are no longer the world's industrial leader. Our scientific spirit has been eroded by a barrage of limiting regulations.

And our collective standard of living, though seeming to rise in dollars, is in a state of gradual decline. We are a country that stands now at the crossroads; will we go on to progress, or to mediocrity?

We must solve our problems, not regulate them into more serious problems. How do we attack this root problem, that I believe provides the key to fiscal sanity and a balanced budget?

First, we must realize that we will not control inflation by enlarging the bureaucracy and causing the government to intrude further into our economy.

Economic freedom—the free enterprise system—is still a far more effective arbiter of our people's needs than the tangled bureaucratic maze on the banks of the Potomac. But it must be given the opportunity.

We must eliminate overlapping regulatory jurisdiction. For example, 18 separate regulatory agencies have jurisdiction over the steel industry.

We need to bring economy into the regulatory process. Part of the problem is the rush to regulate. Let's slow down and take a careful look at what we are doing.

Most regulation today emanates from so-called enabling legislation, where Congress takes no responsibility to set the standards of regulation after an agency is created.

I would propose that this be reversed—that Congress being authorized by itself be responsible for setting regulatory objectives and standards. This would introduce the notion of "bottom line responsibility," a principle sadly lacking in most government agencies.

We should work also to eliminate the disincentives to business and investment that regulations bring about. I am convinced that we must repudiate those who believe that government and not private citizens should allocate the resources of society.

That's the only way to reverse the regulatory tide of the present, right the regulatory wrongs of the past, and reestablish our country's commitment to freedom and prosperity for the future.

Emphasize community role in 2 school improvements

"With all due respect to First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas, it would appear to be at best a mixed blessing to his aldermanic role that he is a lawyer as well as a member of the City Council.

"While his legal training and experience give him extra insight into governmental deliberations, his background also leads him into frequent procedural confrontations that may or may not add to the value of his council service.

"Frequently in the news in this—his first—aldermanic term, Mr. Douglas currently is in the spotlight over his opposition to use of $70,000 in federal shared revenue. The council, acting as the Granite City Town Board, is providing $20,000 to help fund the new lights at the Fishing Road, soccer-baseball complex and $20,000 to help fund additional bleacher seats in the Granite City High School North gymnasium.

"It would be hard to find two more popular projects.

"Granite City has become the soccer capital of Illinois, thanks to South High's three straight state championships. It is right for sectional soccer titles to be decided in the dark, as has happened on some late autumn afternoons.

"And North area pride demands the opportunity to hold more of the athletic contests and other school events on the GHSN premises rather than across town; not all of the events, but more than in the past.

Since opposition when one is badly outnumbered could be a credit to Mr. Douglas, it takes courage to portray "the Grinch who stole Christmas." We happen to think he is needlessly stirring up intra-community animosity for inadequate reasons, but he is welcome to exercise his own best judgment, not ours.

As to the legal points, we are laymen and don't know who is right. Those announcing the gifts look pious to point out that they were being made to citizen groups that already had raised some of the funds; the groups in turn persuaded the school district to cooperate with their undertakings. The dissenting councilman is taking equal pains to characterize the contributions as going directly from one government to the township, to another, the school system.

We would guess that much of the firestorm could be removed from Mr. Douglas' contentions by taking steps to assure that the improvements benefit the entire community's recreational opportunities, not just a few varsity athletes. For that matter, this is already happening. The Board of Education on Sept. 18 adopted a policy that "upon the recommendation of the superintendent and approval by the board, the use of the school buildings and grounds of the district may be granted, at such public meetings as may be within the provisions of the school law and within the school budget, for use without conflicting with school affairs."

Hunger remains, but food programs make a difference

"Food and Nutrition Service Midwest Regional Office—"Our first and overwhelming impression is that there are fewer grossly malnourished people in this country today than there were 10 years ago. Where visitors 10 years ago could quickly see large numbers of stunted, apathetic children with swollen stomachs, and the dull eyes and poorly healing wounds characteristic of malnutrition, such children are not to be seen (now) in such numbers."

"This was the conclusion of Field Foundation medical teams, who have just revisited poverty stricken areas of the country to learn whether there are fewer hungry Americans than 10 or more years before. In their initial survey in 1967, the Foundation's doctors found evidence of serious malnutrition. They subsequently shocked the nation with their report of widespread hunger in America.

"In their 1967 report to Congress, they stated, 'Wherever we went wherever we looked we saw children in significant numbers who were hungry and sick, children for whom hunger is a daily fact of life.'

"The children we saw were more than just malnourished. They were weak, apathetic. Their lives are being shortened. They are suffering from hunger, disease, and they are dying from them, which is exactly what 'starvation' means."

"Congress responded to their concerns by enacting more than a dozen food aid laws in the ensuing decade, expanding and improving federal food programs."

"If these programs that have alleviated hunger, the doctors said, and not a general improvement in living standards or a decrease in unemployment. Actually, they noted, 'the fate of millions of Americans living in poverty remain as dark or darker than they were 10 years ago. But in the area of food there is a difference.'"

"The doctors pointed to the food stamp program, Head Start, school lunch and breakfast programs and the women, infants and children (WIC) feeding programs as being instrumental in alleviating hunger.

"This year, the doctors' conclusions were released in a widely publicized report, 'Hunger in America.' The Federal Response," written by Nick Kotz, a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist. Their findings, writes Kotz, suggest that "food aid programs may represent one of the unsung and yet most effective efforts of the last 12 years."

Kotz's accounts "by no means represent an unqualified optimistic endorsement of present food aid programs or of the current nutritional health of the American people," Kotz says, "but, he adds, 'the doctors fastened onto food aid as one concrete area in which they believe there has been significant progress—and opportunity for more.'"

Field Foundation doctors and observers, Kotz reports, believe that the food stamp program is "making a crucial difference in the quality of the lives of many poor Americans."

Few studies, Kotz says have assessed the actual nutritional impact of food stamps. But recent research helps dispel the notion that the food stamp use spends his stamps on expensive steaks and non-nutritious snack items.

Donald West, an agriculture economist at Washington State University, made a comparative study of food buying habits of users and non-users of food stamps. West based the study on the Bureau of Labor Statistics 1973-74 Consumer Expenditure Survey of food spending over a two-week period in 587 households that received food stamps and 1,927 that did not.

The study showed, says Kotz, that "the family on food stamps allocates its food dollar in the same general categories as the middle income family, but economizes by buying less expensive foods."

"There is less conspicuous evidence," he adds, "that the poor understand all the fine points of food and nutrition after receiving food stamps." The poor need nutritional guidance, he concludes, but so does everyone else. Claims Kotz, "Nutritional ignorance transcends class or economic lines."

While the food stamp program has made a "fundamental contribution to the nutritional status of the poor, it has not reached many of the families who need it, according to Kotz. However, the 1977 Food Stamp Act—which took effect this year—includes a number of provisions intended to remove barriers to participation.

The new law eliminates the food stamp purchase requirement, which is felt had been keeping many of the needy people from participating in the program. The law also changes application procedures to make it simpler and less intimidating for eligible people to apply for stamps.

Federal government causing unemployment rise

By DR. JACK CARLSON
Executive Vice President and Chief Economist National Association of Realtors

The Federal Reserve Board caused interest rates to increase in August and signaled higher short-term interest rates for several months and long-term rates for several years. For example, mortgage interest rates averaging about 10 1/2 percent for the next three years.

The government's actions to fight inflation are too late and too little and may create needless job and income loss.

Consumer prices are likely to remain above a rate of 10 percent during the next two years.

Overized federal deficits from rapid growth of federal spending, excessive growth of money supply during the last two years, rapid growth of costly federal regulations and other cost-push inflationary policies have caused two-thirds of the acceleration of inflation during the last two to three years.

OPEC has caused nearly one-third just during the last six months. The recessionary decline in output which started last spring will likely extend through winter and be accompanied by rising unemployment to rates above seven percent for both 1980 and 1981.

Real consumer spending declined in the spring but should improve by Christmas.

Existing home sales were at a 3.7 million annual rate during the first half of 1979.

In spite of a 40 percent increase in the price of crude oil imports, exports of goods and services to other countries will likely grow more rapidly and help create jobs in the United States.

Federal, state and local governments, fueled by record increases in tax receipts, are likely to continue to grow rapidly while consumer-taxpayers find themselves less able to purchase food, clothing and shelter.

The incentive to invest in new machinery and structures is declining and will decline throughout next spring. Corporate profits from current production declined during the last two years and this has been the major reason for slow growth of new or modernized industrial buildings and machinery, which has meant slower growth of productivity and of incomes for all Americans.

Profits from current production per unit of output declined four percent from 1977 to 1978 and are expected to decline by 11 percent comparing 1979 to 1978.

Profits are likely to improve during 1980 and thus provide an incentive for producing new or remodeled commercial and industrial buildings and machinery.

Sales of existing homes remain strong in spite of increasing home prices and record-high mortgage interest rates.

Existing home sales were at a 3.7 million annual rate during the first half of 1979.

and can be expected to slow to a 3.6 million annual rate toward the end of the year, making 1979 the second best year for housing sales, second only to 3.9 million units in 1978.

Home sales during 1980 are likely to be good.

Construction of new housing units has slowed 15 percent from last year and may slip a total of 25 percent before returning to nearly 2.0 million starts by the end of 1980.

Construction of multifamily units should continue at high levels through the period, one-third being subsidized by the government.

Housing production has suffered only a moderate decline because demand for housing has remained strong, and mortgage money has been available through thrift institutions although at high prices.

Two-thirds of the housing starts are in the rapidly growing South and West.

Tax relief for the ill and the poor

To the Editor:

I am responding to Gov. James Thompson's proposal to reduce the sales tax on food and drugs.

It is a desperation political move and an admission that his veto of a total phase-out of the tax offered by Democrats was wrong.

Thompson has announced he will present to the legislature when it meets in special session Oct. 3 a one-cent sales tax reduction for a single year. Democratic legislation passed by the House and Senate, but vetoed by the governor, would phase out the tax completely by 1983.

Local governments would be reimbursed for losses in revenue by receiving a small portion of the state income tax.

The governor had at least four opportunities during the regular session to support a reduction on food and drug sales taxes.

First, he could have proposed such legislation in his budget message to the General Assembly in March.

Next, he could have supported the Democratic-led effort at any time during the session.

Third, he could have signed the bill into law, or, fourth, used his amendatory veto to make the legislation conform to his concept of what such tax relief should be.

Instead, he opposed the bill when it was in committee and later being considered on the floors of the House and Senate, and then, with much fanfare, vetoed it totally.

State Comptroller Roland Burris, who has assured all of us that the state can afford this reduction, says the governor's sudden panic results from either "seeing the light, or feeling the heat."

"The principal difference between the bill he vetoed and the legislation he proposes is that this tax relief for the elderly, the chronically ill, low income families and others losing the battle against inflation, is clear and simple.

The measure we passed and he vetoed offers complete elimination of this burden. Thompson wants such relief available only for a year so that he can regroup his forces and veto any similar measure again next session.

I promise every resident in the 55th Legislative District that I will join other members of the House and our colleagues in the Senate in a last-ditch effort to override the governor's veto of trust and permanent relief in a most sensitive area of their tax burden, as offered by House Bill 2564.

I am a member of "Sales Tax Override Operation, STOP," an informal group which includes Democratic leaders and members of the House and Senate as well as more than 100 organizations operating in Chicago and throughout Downstate Illinois.

STATE REP. MICHAEL SLAPPE, Democrat, Peabodians

WHAT KIND OF MAN READS "PROGRESSIVE"?

Nameoki officials seek better communications with sewer contractor

Allegations that officials of S.M. Wilson & Co., contractors of new sanitary sewers through Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, have disregarded the convenience and wishes of numerous residents while sewers are being installed were made by Nameoki Township citizens and officials during Monday night's Nameoki Town Board meeting.

Township Supervisor Harold Davis said he feels the company is using "bad PR (public relations)" in responding to complaints by residents whose streets and yards are torn up by the sewer construction.

"It is frustrating to try and help these people who have problems created by the sewer project. If the contractor would be more careful, I predict we wouldn't have these problems. We met with them, with no satisfaction. I would say no progress at all," Davis said at the meeting.

He said one problem was that a pile of dirt blocked Village Lane and William John Court, making it impossible for residents of eight to 10 homes to drive to their homes last weekend. "We tried but were unable to make contact with the sewer people."

Finally, Trustee Jerry Adams arranged for a township tractor to clear a path for cars so people could reach their homes, the audience at the meeting was told.

"Trustee Norman Hessler said he feels the contractor should at least notify the fire departments, police and ambulance service when they are going too close a street."

Highway Commissioner Frank Mellicie alleged some roads have been closed nearly a year, due to sewer construction.

In other business, Davis reported taxes being received from the county treasurer have enabled the township to redeem all outstanding anticipation warrants and to invest $90,000 in interest-bearing certificates of deposit.

Deposits include $20,000 from the town fund, $25,000 from general assistance, $15,000 from revenue sharing, $10,000 from the municipal retirement fund and $20,000 from the special hard road fund.

Mellicie reported the taxes enabled him to repay the anticipation warrants as well as bills as much as eight months old. "I can see daylight. Now we can get started with some of these projects I promised we would do," he said.

He said he also has received a $8,400 reimbursement for money the department expended during flooding in the township this spring and that money, along with the new taxes, may enable him to work on drainage on Lake Drive south of Route 162, and on a concrete ditch along the drainage project south of Route 162 near Livingston Oil Co., east of Stallings School, where the spring rains washed out improvements the township had completed.

Davis said he has studied a report by the U.S. Corps of Engineers on planning for Hillside Drainage in this area and concluded, "It just calls for more planning, it looks to me."

He said the report indicates areas to be studied will include piling wells to lower the water table, a system of underground collectors for ground water and a concrete ditch along the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks to Horseshoe Lake, possibly with a side ditch toward Granite City.

"He read a schedule of work to be done from now through May 1983 and concluded, 'There's no work being done in this time, just reports.'"

He pledged he will meet with Corps of Engineers officials to discuss the report and to plead for action, but concluded, "After looking at this time schedule, there's really no more hurry."

Davis commended the workers who have been with the township under the Manpower CETA (Comprehensive Employment and Training Act) program and said they will be missed. Manpower is ending its funding for most positions and several township Manpower workers will be laid off tomorrow.

"This going to cut back the services we are offering. I hope we can get the important things done. We have gotten extremely good help here and we appreciate it," Davis said.

He noted that the county's Manpower office has agreed to replace the township's humane officer with another Manpower employee, as soon as funding for the next quarter is approved.

Mellicie reported he has received correspondence from State Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton) indicating that the state has approved installation of traffic signals on Route 203 at the entrance to the Cloverleaf and Eagle Park subdivisions. The announcement drew applause from several in the audience who reside in those areas.

W. Lee Adams was appointed the new chairman of the township's finance committee, replacing Trustee Norman Hessler who moved out of the township and resigned from the board. Adams commented simply, "I hope I can do as good a job as Mr. Hessler did."

Bills approved for payment totaled $7,014 from the town fund, $1,461 from general assistance, $23,471 from the road and bridge fund, $2,488 from revenue sharing, and $10,394 from the special hard road fund.

The next meeting of the board will be held Tuesday, Oct. 9, since Oct. 8 is Columbus Day and the township office will be closed.

SEITH CONFERENCE
Alex R. Seith will conduct a news conference this evening at Bi-State Parks Airport. Purpose of the conference is to discuss the upcoming 1980 U.S. Senate race, in which he is expected to declare his candidacy for the Democratic nomination.

Charge two in gas theft

Mike G. Cathers and James R. Cathers, both 18 and both of 1706 rear Cleveland Blvd., have been charged with theft after they and a 15-year-old allegedly were seen attempting to siphon gasoline from a neighbor's auto at 5:40 p.m. Monday.

The neighbor reported three youths were around the car of Gary Cornelison, 1710 rear Cleveland Blvd., trying to siphon gasoline. When a police car arrived, the three allegedly walked around the corner of a building away from officers and disappeared.

Mike Cathers was spotted on a balcony at 1712 Cleveland Blvd. and was taken into custody, police alleged. They said the other two later surrendered at the police station.

The juvenile was released on a notice to appear and the Cathers brothers were released on $35 bond each at 8:45 p.m. Monday.

SOME CAR LICENSES TO EXPIRE SUNDAY

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon will open major facilities in Springfield and Chicago Saturday to sell renewal stickers for multi-year license registrations which expire at midnight Sunday, Sept. 30.

Springfield facilities will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on the first floor of the Centennial building and drop-up windows at Dirksen Park way. In addition, many banks throughout the state are now selling renewal stickers over the counter. Under state law, no extensions may be granted for any sticker renewal expirations.

FACES CHARGE

Robert C. Odum, 29, of 2500 Lincoln Ave., was charged with battery during the weekend after he allegedly struck an attendant at the Clark Gas station, Nameoki Road and Washington Avenue. Odum allegedly yelled at the attendant for being too slow pumping gas and then struck him in the face, breaking the attendant's glasses and causing a nose bleed.

Golden Agers mark birthdays

The birthdays of six members were celebrated Tuesday at the Golden Agers Club at its meeting in the Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center. Honorees were: Grace Paddock, Ruth Corbitt, Mildred Moss, Peggy Gibbons, Della Hagen and Martin Schulte.

Juanita Crawley, president, was in charge and a prayer was repeated in unison to open the meeting. Edgar Paddock led the pledge of allegiance. A nominating committee, appointed to prepare a slate of officers for presentation at a later business session, included Tom Crawley, Peggy Gibbons and Mrs. Paddock.

An election is scheduled in November. Mrs. Crawley reminded members of a pollack, planned at 12 noon, Oct. 9, with meat or a covered dish food item to be provided by each person. Games were played and prizes were won by Ida Cassell, Art Rankin, Mrs. Paddock, Caroline Lux, Art Linder and Mrs. Crawley. Assisting in the kitchen were Tom Crawley, Mrs. Hagen and Mrs. Lux. Mrs. Edith Young helped at a previous session, it was noted.

St. Margaret Mary bazaar Sunday

The annual bazaar and chicken dinner at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, scheduled from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. Sunday, was the principal topic of discussion at a meeting this week of the Ladies of St. Margaret Mary.

The public is invited to attend the bazaar and dinner, Mrs. Karen Costello, president, said.

Plans also were made for a teachers' tea, set at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9, at St.

at the door, costing $3.75 for adults and $1.75 for children. Youngsters under 5 years will be admitted without charge. Thirty attended the women's meeting and completed details for the bazaar.

Four new members were introduced and welcomed by the group. They are Toni York, Bonnie Miller, Linda Hoffman and Pam Dellmann.

Margaret Mary School, to be held in conjunction with the next regular meeting. All women in the parish are invited to attend, Mrs. Costello said.

The room award was won

Half an aspirin a day keeps the doctor away

A Washington University School of Medicine researcher, Philip W. Majerus, M.D., has announced the results of research which indicate a significant prevention of thrombosis in hemodialysis patients through use of low-dose aspirin.

Professor of medicine and biological chemistry and director of the Division of Hematology, he also implied that use of aspirin in low doses significantly reduces the chance of a second thrombosis in people with other thrombotic disorders.

Dr. Majerus has shown that aspirin acts on blood platelets at a much lower dose than on other tissues of the body. Blood platelets are blood cells that cause the thromboses to occur.

Small doses of aspirin block platelet function without affecting other tissues, he said.

A research study of 44 patients with arteriovenous shunts indicates that low-dose aspirin (1/2 adult size tablet, 160 mg a day) can prevent thrombosis.

A shunt is a surgical passage created between two blood vessels to direct blood flow. The number of shunt thrombosis in the aspirin-treated patients was one-third that in the control group.

Dr. Majerus' research indicates that low-dose aspirin is a non-toxic, effective anti-thrombotic agent in man. Whether aspirin can prevent death from coronary thrombotic disease will require further studies, he said.

There may also be evidence that healthy adults reduce the chances of having a thrombosis by taking aspirin, but this remains highly speculative. Dr. Majerus attended Notre Dame University and received the M.D. degree from Washington University School of Medicine in 1961. He served his internship and residency at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

He has been on the Washington University faculty since 1966 and is a member of several medical societies, including Alpha Omega Alpha, the medical honor society. He is currently the editor of the Journal of Clinical Investigation.

Auto and truck collide Friday

Karl F. Braeuning, 67, of Ferguson, Mo., was treated at 9 a.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for two fractured ribs following an auto accident.

The patient was transferred to Christian Northeast Hospital in St. Louis. Braeuning was injured as the auto he was driving and a tractor-trailer collided at the intersection of Illinois Route 3 and W. 20th Street.

The accident was reported at 8:40 a.m. Friday. Douglas E. Hankamer, 28, of Dupo, Ill., was the driver of the tractor-trailer which belongs to the J. C. Hauling Company of Millstadt, Ill.

According to police, Hankamer was northbound on Route 3 at W. 20th Street attempting to make a left turn and said he did not see the Braeuning auto.

The brakes on the truck also allegedly went out and Hankamer was trying to get off the highway when the collision took place.

Damages home; strikes woman

Connie Cook, 4772 Nameoki Road, told Madison County sheriff's deputies early this week that a man caused extensive damage to her parents' home at that address and struck her several times.

She said the man became angry and she closed the house door, locking him outside. He then broke the door, shoved Connie Cook's sister out of the way and came at the victim with a large board in his hands.

She said she and her sister locked themselves in the bathroom, but the man knocked that door down and came at the victim, knocking her down and striking her several times.

He also vandalized the house, throwing tables and chairs, appliances, dishes and other items around, pulling the range hood from the wall, knocking a hole in a wall and breaking a room divider and a lamp.

The victim was advised to contact the Madison County state's attorney's office for prosecution.

Annual picnic for City Temple

City Temple Assembly of God Church held its annual Sunday school picnic at Lake Williamson Christian Center near Carlinville, Ill., last week.

The Rev. A.E. Cope baptized 13 members in the water. The remainder of the afternoon was spent playing volleyball, having a pie-eating contest and a watermelon feast. An evening devotional service concluded the afternoon. Approximately 200 people attended the all-day event.

Area Lions clubs' presidents honored

Immediate Past Presidents Jim Miller Jr. of the Granite City Lions Club, Tony Anselmo of the Madison Lions Club and Larry J. McKee of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club were awarded the Lions International 100 percent President Awards during special ceremonies at the Lions zone meeting hosted by the Pontoon Beach Club last week.

The Lion award is given by the Lions International board of directors to Lion club presidents that fulfill ten of 13 requirements set by the International during their year as president.

Illinois Lions Zone Chairman Donald D. Patrick of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club made the presentations to the three Lions past presidents and noted that this is the first time all three local presidents have earned the award in the same year.

In making the presentation, Patrick read from the letter he had received from Lions International Immediate Past President Ralph Layman of Lansing, Mich.

"It is my pleasure to inform you that Past Presidents Jim Miller Jr. of the Granite City Lions Club, Tony Anselmo of the Madison Lions Club and Larry J. McKee of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club have been awarded the President 100 percent Club Presidents Pins for 1978-79 by the International Association of Lions Clubs.

"I would much appreciate your arranging for a fitting presentation. Please extend my own and the personal thanks of the officers and directors of our association and the power of solution for the leadership they have given."

Recreation workshop

The Southwestern district of the Illinois Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation (IAHPER) will present a workshop at Edwardsville High School on Saturday, Sept. 29, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., with registration from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m.

"Where Are We Now and Where Are We Going?" will kick off the workshop.

Other areas of interest to be presented include elementary rhythms and dance, perceptual motor skills and fitness, adaptive activities, basketball, track and field, indoor soccer and disco dancing.

Presenters will be Mary Weber of Eastern Illinois University, Ann Murry of Centralia High School, Nina Fenoy, Ernest Rigins and Jackie Joyner of Lincoln High School in East St. Louis, Ken McBride and Pete Schumacher of the Cahokia school district and Pat McBride, coach of the professional indoor soccer team, the St. Louis Steamers.

'New look' for Schlitz

A new tapered bottle with a gold foil label and a new coin design is being introduced by Schlitz beer in this area, according to Paul Kacera, Ken McBride and Pete Schumacher of the Cahokia school district and Pat McBride, coach of the professional indoor soccer team, the St. Louis Steamers.

Those interested in one or more of the activities are being invited to attend.

BLOOD DRIVE AT ASSUMPTION HIGH

The Senior Divisional Council of Assumption High School, East St. Louis, is sponsoring a blood drive on Tuesday, Oct. 2, in the school gym between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Persons interested in helping to maintain the supply of blood for the metropolitan area are welcome to donate. The drive is being held in cooperation with the Missouri-Illinois Regional Red Cross, which supplies 146 hospitals.

John 6:68 . . . "Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life."

Our generation needs some answers and they need them right away. Credibility in all walks of life is shrouded by doubt. We find it difficult to be loyal to anything we cannot trust. Americans have never had a history of being dominated by fear, but we must admit there is too much uncertainty today.

What do we do? Where do we turn? We are the worlds leaders and therefore we must lead and we dare not falter!

The Apostle Peter has the solution we needed. We shall turn to the Lord! He has the words of life; the wisdom to know our needs and the power of solution.

There is no other place to turn. We will turn to the Lord.

By 1982, watch your carburetor and air filter or give up your car license

By ED GURNEY
After one year of service, nearly half of all new cars can no longer meet pollution standards, a federal official said last week.

"Automobile engines must be maintained properly so that emission control equipment can continue to function as well as it does when the car leaves the factory," said Mickey Marshall of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. "The rapid deterioration of automobiles' emission control capability is a major reason given for the establishment of a required inspection-maintenance program in the St. Louis metropolitan area by 1982."

"Development of the program is the subject of a series of workshops, including one held at the Collinsville Area Vocational Center, which are kicking off a public information campaign."

"Yearly automobile pollution inspections are to be required by 1982 as a way of reducing hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions."

"Without the inspection and maintenance program, it is believed the area will not be able to comply with federal clean air standards."

"Marshall said it was first thought that emissions didn't get much worse as a car was driven."

Studies have shown, however, that 40 to 50 percent of new cars no longer meet emissions requirements after one year.

"That figure jumps to 60 percent by the third year and to 70 to 80 percent by the fifth year," Marshall said.

Inspection and maintenance programs are one of the methods recognized by the federal EPA for improving air quality.

By 1982, motorists in Madison and St. Clair counties are expected to be required to get their cars inspected yearly.

If their cars fail the pollution test, they won't be able to buy their auto licenses.

Jim Harms of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency said Madison and St. Clair are two of the eight Illinois counties expected to be in violation of pollution standards in 1982.

The other six counties are in the Chicago area.

Illinois will have a contractor-operated inspection program, probably with two inspection stations in each of the two local counties, Harms said.

There may also be a mobile unit to reach outlying areas, he said.

Cost of the inspection is uncertain, but it is expected to be the equivalent of $6.50 in 1979 dollars, Harms said.

Marshall said one of the requirements of the program is that the test be simple, short, and show the bad pollutants.

The testing equipment will check the exhaust coming out of the tailpipe.

Jim Maloney of the Illinois EPA said his agency wants the test to be simple so that a number of garages will be able to do the engine work necessary to bring a car into compliance.

The engine will be tested while it is idling. "The idle test will identify the gross emitters," Maloney said.

"These are the people we're really after."

Marshall said 80 percent of the problems can be solved with a properly adjusted carburetor and a good air filter.

Consideration is being given to putting a limit on required repair costs, or exempting certain cars.

Harms said that old cars may be exempt, since in some cases the needed repairs would cost more than the car is worth. Otherwise, all licensed gasoline engines (except motorcycles) would be tested annually, he said.

The inspection program is expected to reduce tampering with catalytic converters. "We know there is wholesale removal of catalysts today," Marshall said.

Inspection and maintenance programs have been effective in reducing pollution in other areas of the country, it was stated.

For example, hydrocarbon emissions were lowered by 40 percent in Phoenix and 47 percent in Portland while carbon monoxide pollution was lowered 25 percent in Phoenix and 54 percent in Portland.

According to Jerry Blair of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, the program is expected to reduce hydrocarbon emissions by 29 percent by 1987 to help enable the St. Louis area to meet the federal standard.

The inspection and maintenance program isn't going to be as important in the reduction of carbon monoxide, he said.

That pollution must be reduced by 36 percent, but the standard is expected to be reached by the mid-1990s, mainly through car turnover, Blair said.

Harms added that the program should produce another benefit: better gasoline mileage. That should result because engines will be better tuned, he said.

At last week's workshop, Harms demonstrated an emission testing device developed by the National Center for Vehicle Emission Control and Safety at Colorado State University. The testing device showed what effects various parts of a 1977 Ford engine had on the amount of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide emitted.

Play tickets now on sale

Tickets for Granite City High School North Homecoming play "Cheaper by the Dozen" are currently on sale at the school.

The play is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday Oct. 3 and 4, in Memorial auditorium located on the South campus. Curtain time will be at 8 p.m.

Tickets purchased in advance are $1.50 for students and $2 for adults. Tickets purchased at the door are 50 cents higher for both students and adults.

Student activity tickets are not honored for admission to the play.

Students may purchase tickets during lunch periods. Tickets are also available for sale to the general public at the main office at North.

Tickets will be sold through Tuesday, Oct. 2. The presentation of the Homecoming Queen and her court will be held both evenings following the play.

The play is under the direction of Robert Burns, a speech teacher at North, and Dr. Goni Michaeloff, chairman of the speech department.

Russell Dunlap, 69, dies

Russell Leroy Dunlap, 69, of East St. Louis, died at 11 p.m. Sunday at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis. He had been ill and hospitalized for two days.

Born in East St. Louis, he was a lifetime resident of that community. He was employed by Sears and Roebuck and was a member of the Teamsters Union.

He was of the baptist faith. He was preceded in death by a brother, William Dunlap.

Among his survivors are two half brothers, Henry Priesmeyer, Greenville, Ill., and Ernest Priesmeyer, Pocahtontas, Ill. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

New mobile home laws are praised

Governor James Thompson has signed into law House Bill 882 on landlord-tenant rights. It is being called the first comprehensive mobile home law in Illinois history that specifically points out the responsibilities of both tenants and park owners. The original bill was amended after numerous meetings between the sponsors and representatives of the Illinois Manufactured Housing Association, and after several compromises. IMHA Executive Director John J. Volpe commented, "It is the hope that the passage of this bill will usher in a new era of outstanding cooperation between mobile home owners and mobile home park owners."

The governor also approved House Bill 806, the Illinois Mobile Home Tie-Down Act, that requires the Department of Public Safety to provide regulations for tie-down equipment.

It will be the responsibility of the mobile home owner of homes moved or new homes shipped in this state to conform with the new regulations. Both bills go into effect Jan. 1, 1980.

Collectors' show

A collectors' show and sale will be held Saturday and Sunday, sponsored by the Metro East Avon Collectors Club, in Granite City.

The club, formed in August 1978, now has 50 members. The meetings are held every third Wednesday at the East Side Levee and Sanitary District office at 1801 Madison Ave. at 7:30 p.m.

Avon Collectors clubs are a worldwide hobby for many people and in many cases is a family collection hobby. Members say the fun is in looking for the special Avon bottle that some collectors do not have. Some are expensive and a lot are "just pretty to look at."

The collectors have available to them a special encyclopedia published by the National Association of Avon Clubs (NAAC).

This book tells the collector the original sale price of the product and what the bottle, empty or full, with or without a box, is worth today.

Club president is Mrs. Evelyn Alexander of Troy. The vice-president is Joe Senter (931-3560) of Granite City.

A collection may contain as many as 3,000 or 4,000 different bottles, some dating back to 1888, when the original company was the California Perfume Co. It was changed to the Avon Products Co. in 1929. The show and sale will be held at the Collinsville V.F.W. Hall, 1234 Vandalia Highway 159 two miles south of I-270. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. There will be sellers from many states. There also will be coin collections, dolls, beer cans, arts and crafts and jewelry. Admission will be free.

SHOT TO HEAD

Thomas A. Carney of Pontoon Beach, who was murdered at his mobile home March 15, was shot from behind in the head and not in the heart, as was previously reported. The man arrested for that shooting has been found innocent by a jury in Madison County Circuit Court.

GRANITE CITY — It won't exactly be do-or-die weekend, but the football games Friday and Saturday for Granite City North and South will do a lot in telling just how good each team is.

North, South face stiff tests

Press-Record

Sports

GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, Sept. 27, 1979—23

Stadium, South, 2-1 and 8th in the Large School Poll, will travel to Belleville for a crucial Gateway East Conference game with Althoff, 2-1 and 5th in the Large School Poll. Althoff and South are each 1-0 in conference play.

North is one of the surprise teams in the area this season, coming off an 0-10 campaign a year ago, the Steelers have beaten Cahokia (33-8), Collinsville (14-0) and Wood River (28-2) in their first three games this season. Roxana is 2-1 on the season, its only defeat coming two weeks ago at the hands of number one Mascoutah. Last week the Shells whipped Alton Marquette.

Warriors back in form with 9-0 rout

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

LEBANON — It was like old times.

The Granite City South soccer team, after a sluggish first quarter, dominated Lebanon here Wednesday and waltzed away with a 9-0 victory. It was reminiscent of previous years when the Warriors whipped up on lesser foes — with style. Everybody got into the act.

Despite injuries that have benched stars David Fernandez, Phil Beljanski and David James, South still had little trouble with Lebanon. Even though it is hard to see exactly how good a player is against a team like Lebanon (which has tremendous athletes but few soccer skills), South coach Gene Baker nonetheless got to look at many junior varsity players in varsity action.

But the most heartening thing to Baker Wednesday was the play of sophomore David Paz. The youngster popped in a goal in the second quarter and two more in the third. All three were unassisted.

"With all our injuries, we were led by sophomores out there today," said Baker.

"Besides Paz, Greg White did an excellent job."

White, a member of the Southern Illinois select team last summer, got his first goal of the season at the 52:26 mark in the third period on a penalty kick. After he put the ball past the Lebanon goalie into the lower right corner of the goal, White leaped into the air with fist extended high as if it had been the winning goal in the state final. Instead, it made the score 7-0.

All told, the Warriors were given three penalty kicks — and scored on all three. Jack Burnett made the score 4-0 at halftime with his at the 35:32 mark of the second quarter and freshman Segabian scored South's final goal at the 73:00 mark with his.

Despite the overwhelming South victory, Baker had praise for Lebanon. "They have some excellent athletes," he said. "(Shelby) Brooks shows signs of actually having the tools to be a pretty good soccer player."

Brooks, a senior, is an all-state basketball player. And like many of his teammates, uses soccer as a means of getting into shape for that winter sport.

Baker got good news this week when he learned that Beljanski, out for three weeks with a broken nose, will be able to return to action this weekend, perhaps in South's game Friday night at Belleville Althoff. Today, the Warriors will play a make-up game at home against Springfield Southeast beginning at 4 p.m. Saturday, they travel to Quincy Senior.

(Press-Record Photo)

SOUTH-LEBANON ACTION yesterday at Lebanon saw Granite City South pile up a 9-0 victory over the host Greyhounds. Here, South's Jack Burnett (right) goes up to head the ball near the Lebanon goal while being marked by a Greyhound defender. Burnett scored a goal in the second quarter on a penalty kick.

North moves up in poll; Shells close in on first

GRANITE CITY — With the East St. Louis Flyers still a unanimous choice for first place in this week's Press-Record large school football coaches' poll, the most interesting battle is for the next four spots. Meanwhile, Mascoutah, which came within two points of being unanimous last week, finds itself in a battle for the top spot in the small school poll with Mississippi Valley Conference rival Roxana.

In the Large School Poll, East St. Louis's Flyers garnered all five of the first place votes cast for 50 points. After that, a real shakeup ensues. Belleville West, third last week, moved up to second, bumping arch-rival Belleville East to third. The two schools play each other Friday night in Township Stadium in what has become

In the small school poll, the biggest drop was by Alton Marquette, which fell to Roxana. The Explorers fell from 4th into a 7th place tie with Jerseyville. East St. Louis Assumption, 6th last week, replaced Marquette.

A log-jam at the 9th spot results from a four-way tie between Staunton, Columbia, O'Fallon and Bethalto, which was 7th last week.

Members of the Large School board are Tom Wroblek of North, Stan Wojcik of South, Bruce Arnold of West, Glenn Schott of Althoff and Pete Hayes of the Press-Record staff. Small school coaches are Charles Steptoe of Madison, Jim Monken of Assumption, Leroy Beck of Bethalto, Jerry German of Dupe and John Rogers of Marquette.

Steelers still lead pack

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North's soccer Steelers picked up one more point this week in the Press-Record's poll of area soccer coaches. North, with an 8-0 record, was nearly a unanimous choice for the number one position among the top ten preps in southwestern Illinois.

North's back-to-back victories over two powerful St. Louis schools, Vianey and McCluer North, convinced every coach on the poll but one that the Steelers are number one. Collinsville, despite suffering its first defeat of the season at St. Thomas Aquinas (St. Louis) and tying Cahokia 0-0, picked up the other first place vote and finished in second position.

Defending state champion Granite City South, which was 2-1 in the week finds itself in third. The Warriors bombed Waterloo Gibault and Belleville East by scores of 7-0 and 5-0, but lost Monday to McCluer North 3-2. Last night's game at Lebanon was not included in this week's poll.

After the top three spots, there was some shuffling among the top ten, even though no school dropped out. Alton replaced Quincy in the fourth spot, with the Blue Devils dropping down into a tie for 5th with Belleville West, 6th last week. Quincy Notre Dame stayed in the 7th position. Belleville East moved into an 8th place tie with Cahokia after trialing the Comanches by eight points last week. Althoff stays in 10th.

This Saturday, Granite City North and South will get a taste of what the two quincy schools have to offer. The Steelers travel to Quincy Notre Dame, while the Warriors are at Quincy Senior in other critical

North season passes

GRANITE CITY — North added season football passes can be purchased at the game vs. Roxana tomorrow, according to Gib Wamsley, principal. This opportunity is being offered because the passes are good for both upcoming North-South football games.

Including tomorrow's home game, the five remaining home games would ordinarily cost and adult $10. The season pass can be purchased for $6.25, a savings of $3.75. Passes can be purchased at the ticket booth prior to game time.

North sets record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North golf team set a team record here Wednesday on the front nine holes at Arlington Golf Course in beating Jerseyville 153-171. Lebanon also participated but did not field a complete team.

North's Rob Fyalka led the way for the Steelers with a 36. Chris Andrews shot a 37. Pat Eads and Jerry Coyle each shot a 40.

Jerseyville's Greg Jones fired a 39. Harry Auger a 44. Chris Meyers 45 and Jeff Dolan a 45.

South spikers nab win

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South girls volleyball team got its season underway here Tuesday with a victory over visiting Cahokia. But sister school Granite City North wasn't as fortunate.

While South was beating up on the Lady Comanches by scores of 20-1 and 20-16, North was failing to Both schools' junior varsity teams lost. South was beaten in three games, North in two. South won its first game 21-19, but lost the next two, 20-18 and 22-20.

North's junior varsity fell 20-7 and 20-17.

The next action for the two teams will be Thursday (today) at South when they square off. The junior varsity match will start at 6:30 p.m. with varsity to follow.

Commentary

Who's number 1?

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

It seems almost a reflex. The raised index finger, the chant, "We're number one. We're number one." Photographers photograph it. And the fans, oh, the fans just love it.

If everyone who claimed to be number one were, there would be no losers. The phrase, like so many others, is over-used and under-achieved... usually.

There can be, of course, only one number one. In soccer on this side of the river that position is perennially filled by one of the two Granite City schools, North or South.

But don't look for either Bob Kehoe, North's coach or Gene Baker, the coach at South, to be chanting and ranting with index finger skyward.

Neither claims nor particularly aspires to the top spot—at least not yet.

The question comes up because the Press-Record is, for the first time, ranking area soccer (as well as football) teams. Not surprisingly, the coaches who do the ranking have put North on top three weeks in a row. South has been variously, second and third.

But Kehoe and Baker don't agree. Neither have given their teams a first-place vote all year.

Check the records and you will find overwhelming justification for ranking North on top. It's season so far has yet to include a loss. The only blemish on North's record is a tie against, guess who, South.

The Steelers have in addition beaten Vianney and McCluer North, two teams from St. Louis, where they like to think of Illinois teams as poor country cousins.

The 2-2 win over McCluer North last week pretty much assured North the number one ranking, and established it as the team to beat in this area. But after that game Kehoe was reluctant to try on the crown, even for a fitting.

"When they called me for the rankings," Kehoe said, "I told them I thought we ought to be ranked third. We're undefeated, but we tied South. Collinsville is something like 9-0, so I think both the north and South should be above us."

But having just witnessed the Steelers first dominate the first half of the game against McCluer North, then see the lead threatened, then see them regroup and simply slam the door, Kehoe's generosity and modesty are just a little unconvincing.

"I don't necessarily like the publicity," Kehoe admitted. "When you're number one, people set their cap for you, and somewhere along the line someone is going to knock your cap off."

South has been lower in the polls than North. The Warriors have had some injury problems in the early part of the season. They tied Belleville West and lost to Alton.

But South retains a lofty status in the area, that's undeniable. Alton placed fourth in the poll, simply on the grounds that, after all, they had beaten South in a game.

Lately though, South has begun to come around. Considering the patchwork texture of the Warrior fabric, it has really been a relatively short adjustment period.

So Baker, after last weekend, when South out-scored opponents in two games 13-0, naturally put his team right up there smack in the top of the poll, right?

Nope. Baker thought the Warriors should be ranked sixth (of ten).

But please don't get the wrong idea. The poll is accurate. It has a built-in balance. None of the coaches think their teams should be first, so after they vote themselves down in the rankings that leaves nine unbiased votes. In the end it works out nicely.

Regular season soccer is something like a vacation. It really doesn't matter how you get where you're going, what counts is what you do once you arrive. The destination in this case is the post-season tournaments.

"It's strange," Kehoe said. "You have to have a motive, but you can't look too far into the future. I try not to let my kids look too far ahead."

"I know it's a cliché, but you really have to take each game one at a time. You've got to beat the Althoff's and the Edwardsville's when you play them."

Kehoe might well have added another cliché: "What's on paper doesn't count." Especially when it comes to tournaments.

Then when the question of who's best is asked there won't be any hedging. And you can bet the cheerleaders will cheer and the photographers will photograph and the fans will just love it. Fingers will point to the sky.

We're number one. We're number one.

Aces to challenge SIU

EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team, now 6-2 after a grueling West Coast trip (six games), faces a tough two-game schedule this weekend. Friday, it'll be Evansville U. of Indiana in a 7:30 p.m. contest under the lights at Cougar Field, and Sunday at 2 p.m., the SIUE kickers travel across the Mississippi River to battle the nationally fourth-ranked (NCAA Division II University of Missouri, St. Louis Rivermen).

The Evansville U. Purple Aces, who are making an all-out effort to vault to the forefront of American collegiate soccer ranks,

DON EBERT

Friday night will be zeroing in on the Cougars' all-American striker Don Ebert, who is setting a blistering pace in point production this campaign.

Ebert, now with 14 points (nine goals and four assists) this season, is just four points away from tying the Cougars' second all-time highest scorer, Chris Carencia. Carencia poured in 60 points in four years of play at SIUE. Ebert's present point total going into this week's two-game slate is 56.

Ebert, who if he continues at his present pace will per game average the rest of this season and next year (his senior year), could become the Cougars' all-time scoring leader.

Bob Bozada, who like Ebert is a member of the United States Olympic Squad, is right behind Don in the SIUE scoring parade with 19 (five goals and five assists) points.

This past Sunday, the University of Santa Clara Broncos, a 2-1 loser to SIUE on the Cougars' trip west on freshman Stuart Stevenson's clutch goal in the second overtime, upset the University of San Francisco Dons, 3-2. In the West Coast rankings, Santa Clara is now No. 1.

The toughness of the Cougars' trip to the Pacific coast is found in the current listing of the Top Ten this week in that region.

'Fern' South all-stater wants to get well—and fast

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor of the Press-Record

LEBANON — The anasuming figure stands along the sidelines shouting at the soccer team on the field. "Come on, concentrate! Close in! Beat him! Settle! Touch!"

"Let's go South!"

One might think by his size that he is a team manager, this person of small stature and angelic looks. But he is a soccer player. And can that boy play soccer!

David Fernandez is a junior and a member of the Granite City South soccer team. You know, the one in red that has won three consecutive state championships. Fernandez has been on all three. He has started on all three. But he sits the bench now, the victim of a knee injury—and his own anxiety to play the sport he loves.

Fernandez sprained ligaments in his right knee during the summer while participating in the National Sports Festival soccer trials in Colorado Springs. The doctor there told him to stay off of it for a month after he returned to Granite City. He didn't.

"He (the doctor) said for me to not to anything for at least a month after I got back," said Fernandez. "I tried. But when practice started for high school, I couldn't stay away. I just showed up at practice dressed and ready to go. It felt alright, even though Coach Baker did tell me if I ever started to bother me, to sit out. In fact, we thought the exercises would strengthen it."

Things went fine for Fernandez and his knee until Sept. 8 at Vianney in St.

Louis. While putting one of his patented moves on a Vainey defender, the knee went out.

"I was putting a fake on this guy when I felt it," said Fernandez. "That was that."

Fernandez is being treated by Dr. Stan London, an orthopedic surgeon in St. Louis who is known for his treatment of St. Louis professional athletes. "I have to go back Friday to have an orthogram read," said Fernandez. "That will tell me just when I will be able to come back."

Being benched by an injury is nothing new to Fernandez. Last season, he watched his team win its third state title from the bench because of a cast on a broken wrist. IHSA regulations prohibit playing soccer, a sport in which the use of hands is not allowed with a cast, even though casts are allowed in wrestling, where it could be used as a weapon.

"The way we've been playing, I can't wait to get in there," he said. "Phil (Beljanski) and Dave (James) and I all sit together on the bench and wish we were out there."

Beljanski and James are also out with injuries. Beljanski has a broken nose and James a broken thumb.

"The team has a communication problem," said Fernandez. "Mostly between Coach Baker and the team. I don't know why. Maybe it's because there are so many guys out there who haven't played very much varsity."

David is optimistic about getting back into action. "I feel good about it," he said. "I'll be back by the next North game (Oct. 4). I hope."

Pierson, SIUE-E into 1979 tennis season

By CHRIS OCHOA
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — After a torrid and fast start (7-1) on the fall tennis season, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's tennis coach, Bob Meyers, has his team prepared for some tough competition in the SIUE Invitational, scheduled this weekend. The matches will be held on the Bubble Gym courts, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

One of the members of the squad is Joy Pierson of Granite City, who is playing number four singles.

The Cougars opened their season Sept. 13, when they played Western Illinois at Macomb. The women Leathernecks went down to defeat as the Cougars gained an easy 9-0 victory. The next day saw the Cougars gain yet another shutout, this one over Wheaton College.

From there, it was on to DeKalb, this time for two matches, the first against the Illinois State U. Redbirds and the second against Northern Illinois.

SIUE handed the Cougars their only defeat this season, 2-6 loss. According to Meyers, the Cougars played their best tennis of the season against the women Redbirds but "it simply wasn't enough."

"SIUE has a very strong team," said Meyers. "Their No. 6 players could play at No. 1 at most schools."

But the Cougars didn't let that loss set them back as they dropped Northern Illinois by a 2-2 score later that afternoon. Next, the Cougars closed out their northern trip by handily defeating the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle team, 9-0.

On Sept. 19, the Cougars played their sister school, SIUE-C at Carbondale, and dropped the Salukis by a 6-3 score.

From Carbondale, the Cougars traveled south to Murray, Ky., for two matches against Eastern Kentucky and Murray State. The first game against Eastern was rained out, but the Cougars had a tough battle with Murray before defeating them, 6-3. Then, the Cougars walloped the U. of Tennessee-Martin squad, 9-0.

According to Meyer, the 6-3 score was misleading against Murray. "They gave us a tough time and hung on to the bitter end," he said. "When Bunny Wall won her match, it gave us the fifth point and enabled us to clinch the match over Murray."

Meyers noted that quite a few of the Cougars did very well. "Liz Almeida had an exceptional trip. She's the only undefeated player in singles now," Meyers said.

Almeida now has an 8-0 record in singles play. Christy Cone was undefeated in singles going into the final match with Murray, where she was defeated by Cherry Rouse, 2-6, 3-6. Other singles records are: Pat Ziegenfuss, 7-1; Cone, 7-1; Ruth Auer, 6-2; Joy Pierson, 4-4; Ruth Szymanski, 5-1; and Bunny Wall, 4-1.

Meyers' only doubles team that is definite is the duo of Almeida and Ziegenfuss. This team has an 8-0 record on the season.

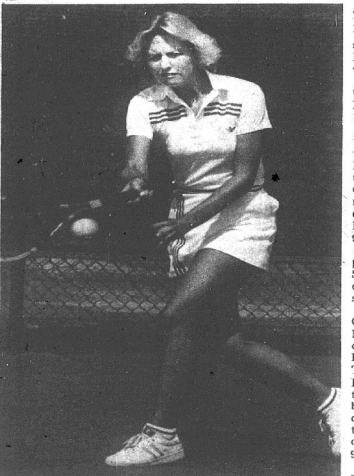

On Wednesday (Sept. 26) the Cougars went against another strong area team, the University of Missouri at St. Louis (UMSL). The match is scheduled at SIUE's Bubble Gym courts, starting at 3 p.m.

According to Meyers, the Cougars' competition this weekend varies in strengths and weaknesses. He sees St. Louis University as one of the strongest teams the Cougars will face.

Other teams involved in the tournament will be St. Francis College (Joliet), DePaul and Bradley. The two Chicago-area teams (St. Francis and DePaul) have been fairly strong in the past, said Meyers.

"They recruit a lot of Chicago players," the SIUE coach said.

The SIUE tournament will begin Friday at 1 p.m. as the Cougars take on Bradley.

JOY PIERSON

Doneff healing at Ill. State

By FRANK DILEONARDI
for the Press-Record

BLOOMINGTON — Illinois State University football player Mike Doneff has a simple goal this fall: just make it through the season healthy.

The Granite City North product has had consistent injury problems since his freshman year in high school at old Granite City High. It was while playing for GCHS that Doneff met coach Wayne Williams, the man who lured him to ISU. Williams, later an ISU assistant, has since left but the aches and pains of major college football for Doneff haven't.

MIKE DONEFF

In his junior year at the newly-built Granite City

North High School, Doneff sustained a broken ankle. Doneff played tailback and defensive back his senior year in 1975, helping North High to the IHSA Class 4A semifinals and an 8-2 record.

Mike recalls that year as being his best because he stayed healthy, rushing for more than 750 yards. It was efforts like this that caused ISU to make Doneff exclusively a running back.

Early in his career at ISU, Doneff changed from tailback to fullback, but one thing that didn't change was the injuries. His first year as a Redbird saw him red-shirted with a torn thigh muscle in his left leg. The next year it was a separated shoulder; however, Doneff still was strong enough to rush for two 100-yard plus drives.

Doneff is now a senior at ISU and is currently the starting fullback and the squad's second leading rusher after two games. But the injuries still haunt Doneff—a bad neck, pulled hamstrings and a variety of lesser infirmities have minimized his playing time the last two seasons and, of course, Doneff finds this very discouraging.

"I got real discouraged, especially last year," he said. "Now I get hit and I can feel something stretch but I don't go off the field. I don't want to get hurt anymore. I want to play and help the team by staying healthy."

His 137 yards and two touchdowns in two games has certainly aided the Redbirds thus far in the young season, and Mike Doneff would like to keep it that way.

North

Buchanan and Pat Jaffe or quarterback Tim Dudley, the team's leading rusher in its win over Collinsville. The North defense allowed Collinsville only 108 total yards and could present a problem for roxana.

South's game with Althoff pits two teams coming off shutout efforts. Last week Althoff slaughtered Central 27-0 while South was beating Cahokia.

Althoff was the pre-season favorite for the Gateway East title and started out the campaign with double overtime victory over loop foe Edwardsville. Two weeks ago, the Crusaders fell into the grips of the Belleville East vise and lost 35-8.

South coach Stan Wojcik might find hope in the fact that his team scored more points against east than Althoff did — even though it was in a losing effort, 35-21. Two weeks ago, South beat O'Fallon 9-6.

Althoff might find it hard to stop the offense of the Warriors. In last week's win, two south backs scored two touchdowns apiece and the quarterback ran 30 yards for another. Fullback Scott Polson plowed into the end zone for two scores and half back Jeff Bergerbrader scored two in addition to gaining 30 yards rushing. Quarterback Blake "Hondo" Ambuehl runs the South attack with the skill to pass effectively when he has to.

Game time at Township Stadium in Belleville is set for 8 p.m.

WOODROME OLDSMOBILE'S PLAYER OF THE WEEK

One reason South doesn't pass much

GRANITE CITY — Jeff Bergerbrader is one reason Granite City South football coach Stan Wojcik has decided not to pass this season unless forced to.

Bergrader, a senior running back for the 2-1 Warriors, scored two touchdowns rushing in the second quarter Friday night, helping his team to a 37-0 trashing of Gateway East Conference rival Cahokia on the opponent's home turf.

In all, Bergrader carried the ball 20 times for 90 yards in addition to his two touchdowns. It was South's first football victory in the new league.

Bergrader, who stands six feet tall and weighs 178 pounds, was a member of the state track team his freshman year, then switched to baseball in the spring of his sophomore year. Last season, he sat out the baseball season because of an injury.

The Player of the Week is named each Thursday in the Press-Record and sponsored by Woodrome Oldsmobile. The selection is made by the Press-Record sports staff from names submitted by area coaches. Others nominated this week were: South quarterback Hondo Ambuehl, North quarterback Tim Dudley (last week's winner), North soccer players Mike Robertson and Mark Jones and South soccer players Craig Kessler and Randy DeFousse.

Poetic loneliness Hannibal bus trip

Oct. 27

Ric Masten, poet, songwriter and philosopher, will visit the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Monday, Oct. 1. His visit is sponsored by the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums.

Two presentations have been scheduled during the day. The first performance will be in Room 0419 of Peck Classroom Building from 9 until 11 a.m. The second will be in Room 0314 of the same building from 1 until 3 p.m. Program content will consist mainly of poetry reading.

An evening performance of both poetry reading and singing has been scheduled for 8 in the Lovejoy Library auditorium. All the performances are free.

Masten is one of the few American poets who works in the oral tradition, lecturing and giving concerts on more than 400 college campuses in 46 states, Canada and England.

He spends most of the year away from his California home, sharing his poems and thoughts on love, death, suicide, marriage, social problems, joy in life, creativity and other mutual human concerns.

A recurrent theme in his work is loneliness, and one of his poems on the subject has brought him more friends than any other piece he has written. The reason for this, Masten feels, is that "loneliness, at least for many of us, is the bridge across the unbridgeable."

Masten points out that when he reads the poem in prisons and mental institutions, the inmates always applaud. "They realize they are not alone in being alone," he says.

Trying to go beyond mere entertainment, Masten seeks active participation and communion with his audiences.

RIC MASTEN

He takes his audience through a "Christmas" period, catching their attention and interest, and then takes them down into depression, despair and death, finally leading up into an "Easter" experience of rebirth and awakening.

LOST CONTROL OF CAR

Dorothy Reynolds, 23, of 3304 Harvey Place was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 5 a.m. Sunday, suffering with a broken nose and multiple facial lacerations. She allegedly lost control of her north bound car on Maryville Road about 200 feet south of Terminal avenue. The car apparently jumped a curb into a field and struck the back fence of William Mathenia, 2500 Revers Route. She allegedly could not remember anything about the accident.

Court of honor for Troop 20

A court of honor was conducted last week at Webster Grade School for Boy Scout Troop 20 of the Cahokia Mount Council.

Scoutmaster Bob Shone welcomed Stephen Duniphan and Brian Voss as new members of the troop. Special honors were accorded David Hahney, who was named the senior patrol leader.

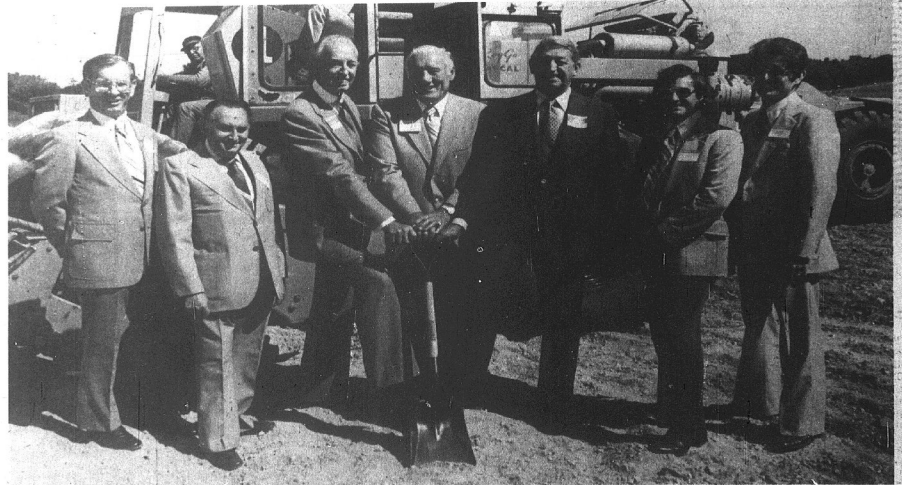

Also receiving awards were Paul Hardison, who was presented tenderfoot, cooking skills and citizenship awards and was appointed patrol leader.

Mike Alfaro, who was appointed assistant patrol leader and received his swimming skill award.

Glenn England, who received a tenderfoot badge and was chosen to serve as troop librarian; and Frank Schwertman, who was the recipient of a first class badge.

Mrs. Diane Shone is chairman of "the troop committee."

Magurany; Don Schnuck, president, Schnucks; John Chadd, executive vice president, Wood River Chamber; and John Kuhlman of E. A., Inc., engineers and architects. The 43,000 square foot supermarket is scheduled for opening in the spring of 1980 on Route 111 north of Route 143.

Revival at Church of Nazarene

The Rev. Don Scarlett Sr., an elder and commissioned evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene, will lead a revival which starts Tuesday, Oct. 2, at the First Church of the Nazarene, 4701 Highway 111.

Services will be conducted nightly at 7:30. Tuesday through Saturday, Oct. 6. Two services will take place Sunday, Oct. 7, at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m., according to Pastor William Roddy.

Rev. Scarlett has served as a pastor and evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene for many years.

He has preached at denominational and interdenominational camp meetings, revivals and conventions throughout the United States.

Rev. Scarlett has pastored churches in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio and has now returned to the field of evangelism after 13 years in pastorates, Rev. Roddy said.

County Republican convention

Thomas B. Curtis will be the featured speaker at the Madison County Republican convention Oct. 15.

Curtis represented St. Louis County in Congress for 18 years and was twice the Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate in Missouri. He is currently co-chairman of the Reagan for President campaign in Missouri.

The four Republican state representatives who include Madison County in their districts will also speak briefly.

The major business will be consideration of a new set of bylaws patterned after the most Republican county in Illinois, DuPage County. All committeemen are being urged to attend the convention.

Committeemen will receive an advance copy of the proposed bylaws either from their district chairman or in the mail. The bylaws were unanimously endorsed by the executive committee.

While only committeemen will be able to vote, any Republican in Madison County is welcome at the convention to be held in the Edwardsville Senior High cafeteria at 8 p.m. The meeting will be concluded by 9:30.

There is no charge and refreshments will be served. A committee will report on prospective 1980 Madison County candidates.

Two at South named commended students

Principal James Dumont of Granite City High School South has announced that two seniors at South have been named Commended students in the 25th annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

A letter of commendation from the school and National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) was presented to Brian Gallas and Christine Larue in recognition of outstanding performance on the qualifying test for the Merit Program that was administered nationwide in October 1978.

Of the more than one million students entering the competition, about 35,000 throughout the United States are being commended for test performance that placed them among the top five percent of participants.

A spokesman for NMSC, which conducts the Merit

Program, stated that "the high performance that is required to be designated a Commended student in the Merit Program is an attainment deserving of public recognition. The nation as well as each of these students will be benefited by the continued educational and personal development of their talents."

In an effort to increase opportunities for college admission and financial aid, NMSC offered the high-performing Commended students a service in which they could be identified and referred to two higher education institutions of their choice. It is hoped that recognition of these students by the Merit Program will serve as an encouragement to able youth throughout the nation, and that attention they receive from colleges will help them to obtain whatever information and assistance they may need to pursue their educational plans.

'Women Involved' Oct. 6

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record
Carol Gusdorf, of the University of Missouri at St. Louis and Rosalie Stern, an Illinois Bell supervisor, will be among the workshop leaders and panelists for "Women Involved," a program for women of all ages, scheduled Saturday, Oct. 6.

The event will take place at Granite City High School North.

The second annual program to be sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club is geared to the special interests and problems encountered by women in all walks of life, according to the general chairman, Wilma Large.

"If you are presently working, or hope to re-enter the work force in the future, we have something of interest for you."

"Whether you are a homemaker, a mother or a senior citizen the programs planned for this special day also are directed toward you," the chairman said.

The day-long event will feature a panel discussion, workshops, a buffet luncheon, fashion show and information booths supervised by qualified people who will offer literature on a wide variety of subjects.

Registration forms are available by calling Mrs. Large at 797-6618, after 4:30 p.m., or registrations will be accepted Oct. 6 at North high school between 8 a.m. and 9:30 a.m.

The registration fee is $10 per person and includes the luncheon and style show, Mrs. Large said.

She said that several outstanding women will form the panel for the morning discussion program, starting at 9:30 a.m. and entitled "Today's Involved Woman."

The panel members include:

Gerri Kelly, owner of a local clothing shop, Nu-To-U.

Priscilla Jones, revenue officer, Internal Revenue Service.

Jane Crowe, executive secretary to the executive vice president of Mercantile Trust, St. Louis.

Barbara Justice, a homemaker.

Annelen Smith, advertising counselor.

Directions Unlimited and second vice-president of Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Debbie Reiker, office manager, Crestwood (Mo.) office of Snelling and Snelling Personnel.

Rosalie Stern, supervisor of the Resident Service Center, Phone Center Store, Illinois Bell, and president elect of the Granite City BPW Club.

Judy Wiemann, immediate past director of BPW District 14, will serve as panel moderator.

A buffet luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m., followed by a fashion show based on the theme, "Women on the Move."

The afternoon workshops will be conducted simultaneously, but presented in two separate segments.

The first segment will start at 1:30 and the second at 2:45.

Each participant may attend two workshops, Mrs. Large explained.

The workshop topics and instructors include:

Everything About Social Security led by Vicki (Roe) McGill of the Social Security Administration, whose presentation last year was well received.

Interview Techniques and Resumes presented by Debbie Reiker, a certified employment counselor who also participated in the first "Women Involved."

Starting Your Own Business conducted by a representative from SCORE, a Small Business Administration program.

Women and Drug Dependency with instructor Lois Daniels, director of the St. Louis Foundation for Alcoholism and Related Dependencies, who has a master's degree in Behavioral Science and is nearing completion of her Ph.D. studies.

Effective Time Management conducted by Dr. Helen McIlvain, a counselor for Belleville Area College Human Development Services.

Women in Management presented by Jane Porter, a partner in Office Center, Inc., and vice president of the Administrative Management Society.

Assertiveness Training led by Carol Gusdorf, an instructor of Women's Programs at the University of Missouri at St. Louis.

A Woman Alone by Annelen Smith of Directions Unlimited.

Information booths will be under the auspices of various organizations and include

CAROL GUSDORF
Workshop Leader

ROSALIE STERN
Panelist

Finding the Right Job by Mary Satterly of Placement Services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Raising Children Alone led by Ruth Belleville, national sales coordinator for Consumers Corporation of America, who has reared three children alone.

Information booths will be under the auspices of various organizations and include such topics as:

EIA, Oasis, Rape Crisis Center, Parents Without Partners, Granite City Mental Health, Child Abuse, Illinois Business and Technical School.

Right to Life, Women Returning to Education, Abortion Alliance, Hospice, Senior Citizens, APSL Reading Research Program and Self Defense.

Rehg named sales manager

Richard L. Rehg has been promoted to sales manager in Prudential's Granite City district agency and assigned to the district branch office in Collinsville. He formerly was an agent in the district headquarters in Nameoki Village.

District Manager Jim Markey said that Rehg joined the company in November 1968. He sold more than $1 million of Prudential insurance protection in 1974. He topped the high sales record again in 1976, 1977, 1978 and prior to his recent advancement during 1979.

A native of Duplo, he is a graduate of that town's high school.

For the past two years, he has served the Hilltopper Swim Club as vice president.

Rehg is married to the former Patricia Scholler of Collinsville. They are the parents of two children: Stacy, 11, and 14-month old Jason.

TILL TAP AT SCHERMERS

Three men entered Schermer Brother's Supermarket on Madison Avenue last week. One reportedly stood by the express checkout lane, one by the telephone and the third man went through another checkout lane. After the three left the manager checked the express cash register and $450 was discovered missing.

Life-span review for seniors planned at 'Y'

The Tri-City Area YMCA in cooperation with the Metro-East Institute of Lifetime Learning will hold a session of life-span review for area senior citizens. The role of this session will be to discuss and review various life occurrences to emphasize the joys of life.

Individuals in the session will be asked to share experiences and instruction will be given to anyone wishing to write his or her reminiscences.

Lois Lybarger will conduct the course with assistance by Shirley Grennell in a brief relaxing exercise period.

Lois has attended Community Counseling Services from Edwardsville and Highland, holds a master in Counselor Education and a certification in Gerontology. In addition, her experience in nursing homes and counseling sessions will prove invaluable in the Life-Span session.

All area senior citizens who wish to share and exchange various shows of life are encouraged to attend. The Life-Span Review class will be conducted each Tuesday from 2:15-3:15 p.m. from Oct. 2 through Nov. 20.

The fee for the class is $1 with registration available at the YMCA main desk or RSVP office. Participants in Life-Span Review often go on to write articles concerning their life experiences. For additional information Quad-Cityans may contact Paul Grennell at the YMCA, 876-7200.

DANCE, RALLY WITH CANDIDATE CRANE

There will be a dance and rally jointly sponsored by the St. Clair and Madison County Republican organizations and the Crane for President Committee on Nov. 30 at the Fireman's Hall, Collinsville. Congressman Barry Goldwater Jr. will speak in addition to Congressman Phillip Crane.

The Little People—fuzzy tellers of Bible stories

PEOPLE

The church was filled with the sound of children. There was a lot of excitement in the room as the kids giggled and talked among themselves. A very special event was about to take place. Then Joe Siddle was there, standing in front of the white draped puppet theater. He and his brother Jeff had brought Emmanuel's Little People to the Community Heights Assembly of God Church.

The kids were anxious for the show to begin. One little boy was so excited that he began to cry. "When are they coming out?", he asked his mother.

Then they were there, the fuzzy little tellers of Bible stories. The children were immediately quiet and attentive. The crying child's tears ceased. The little ones were spellbound by the talking puppets.

The puppet crusade is designed for children 10 to 13, but even the littles of those present seemed to really be enjoying the show. The hand puppets, not unlike those seen on the "Muppet Show" sang songs and told stories. The voices, which came through an amplification system, seemed to come from the mouths of the cloth puppets. The kids were sure they were real.

Joe Siddle and his brother travel all over the country with the Little People, telling their young audiences about Jesus and His teachings.

The two are filled with the joy of their calling, and the show is happy and light. The little ones carry the message of Christ home with them, tucked away in the memory of songs and stories told by the friendly puppets.

The "puppet ministry", as the trend toward using puppets has been termed, is not new. It is growing in popularity because of the great response by the children.

It is difficult at times to keep a young child's attention, but Joe Siddle has few problems in that area. The puppets are a terrific way to teach kids about the Bible and its teachings, according to Siddle.

At one point during the show, one of the puppets came flying from behind the drape, and at least a dozen jumped up to retrieve the fluffy figure.

"We're not trying to fool you kids," Siddle said, "they're just puppets." Some of the kids were a little disappointed to hear that.

East Side Story films, Koster prehistoric exhibit

Edward Hudlin, professor of philosophical studies at SIUE, addressed the Illinois Humanities Council on Friday, the second day of its fall meeting, at the Lakeview Museum of Arts and Sciences in Peoria.

He cited the importance of philosophy to the public's understanding of critical issues. Prof. Hudlin is the project director of "East Side Story," a project recently funded by the IHC. The aim is to produce three television programs which will explore the past, present and future of the East St. Louis area.

At the Lakeview Museum, the Council previewed the permanent, interpretive exhibit, "Koster, Early Man and Modern Archaeology in the Illinois River Valley."

An IHC grant supported the redirection of the museum's philosophy and the development of this exhibit, which focuses on the emergence of prehistoric man in the region as revealed by archaeological findings at Kampsville.

The exhibit is divided into units in which members of the audience sit while "interpreters" link the objects on display to the backgrounds and perceptions of museum goers. The Koster exhibit will open to the public on Oct. 6.

Accredit real estate school

The Illinois School of Real Estate Services has been accredited by the Illinois State Board of Education, it was announced Friday. "The school becomes the only approved private real estate school in Illinois south of Springfield," according to Executive Director James W. Pitts.

"The new school provides a unique concept in real estate education," Pitts said. "Unlike other means of real estate study, we offer it within a specialized school. Real estate is all we teach. All our staff members are college graduates, they all have teaching experience and they all are real estate brokers currently working in the field."

Because of this professional staff, Pitts stressed, "We are able to give prospective real estate people valuable counseling in preparation for working in the field. The brokers also provide insight to local markets and local job opportunities."

A unique feature of the new school, Pitts said, is its concentrated study program. Classes last eight weeks instead of the usual 16. Although many students enroll to prepare for their state licensing exam, the school also offers classes for those already working in real estate to enrich their knowledge of new developments in this challenging and competitive field.

Kiwanis peanut day

The Granite City Evening and Breakfast Kiwanis Clubs will be "giving away" peanuts for contributions to aid children Friday.

The event is the annual "Kiwanis Kids Peanut Day." Members of the two clubs will be at banks and stores downtown and in the shopping centers, wearing bright red aprons.

The two service clubs use the funds collected to help children in a variety of ways, such as purchasing eye glasses and clothing for needy youth in addition to helping local youth groups with special projects.

Recently the two clubs helped sponsor Explorers to the first National Law Enforcement Explorer Conference in Michigan.

Jerry D. Harrington is the president of the Evening Kiwanis Club and L. William Pever is the president of the Breakfast Kiwanis Club.

Hobbies become habit for Hollywood folk

By ANNE THAYER

Some show-folk have hobbies that are turning into what could almost be called second careers.

Needlepoint and cooking both rate high. Since celebrities have famous names going for them, as well as energy, some have already spun off a how-to book or two. Publishers are waving contracts at the holdouts.

Among the nimble-fingered needle-workers, who have also had their names displayed on book racks are Sylvia Sidney, Mary Martin and Rosey Grier, the ex-football player.

Ms. Martin—who will star in her first TV drama later this year—is also a painter and has a deal with a major fabric firm to design liveable florals for sheets.

Hollywood's most publicized cook, of course, is Danny Kaye. The caliber of his Chinese meals is so professional he has won praise from the Guide Michelin people.

Tom "Billy Jack" Laughlin's wife, actress Delores Taylor, is the prize cook of her pal group. She says, "Tom couldn't understand why I wanted two stoves. Everybody else on our way just took electricity. I wanted gas, too. Well wouldn't you know it? The very day we moved in there was a blackout. So when Tom called from the studio, Dody's way of saying, 'I told you so,' was to ask, 'Guess which family will have dinner on the table tonight?'"

Harvey Korman is reported doing swell enough financially to turn down Carol Burnett's get-the-old-gang-together summer series. But that doesn't mean life is without nettles. As he analyzed it a few months ago, he's not looking for a three-star rating for his recipes. But, besides being edible, "Cooking is cheaper than a therapist's couch. It's the way I vent my pent-up frustrations."

According to Betty White, Dinah Shore, however, might well rate three stars. Betty adds that she has no intention of competing with Dinah. When Betty and her husband Allen Ladden reciprocate Dinah's invitations, "We might set out a platter of hors d'oeuvres. Then we take her to a restaurant. Yes, I CAN cook. But not like Dinah. She loves it."

Dinah's own comment: "I do love to cook. Unfortunately, I am also to eat. But I'm learning not to urge second helpings on my guests—or myself."

Striking a specialized line is Jane Alexander, so memorable as Eleanor Roosevelt in "Eleanor and Franklin." Last season she was in demand for cooking demonstrations in department stores that she stocked her book, "The Blue Fish Cookbook."

Carol Lawrence will probably have her book ready by Christmas and it's geared to "busy ladies" like herself, who turn their freezers for short-order meals, but like something fancy once in a while. For this category, she's going to share some of grandma's best recipes from Italy.

TV TATTLE

With the "momentum" of three years of leadership in the ratings, ABC has begun a fall schedule that many advertisers and Walt Disney analysts believe could be the most successful ever mounted by a network.

Their forecasts are based not so much on the quality of the network's programming as on the strategic placement of the shows and the skill with which ABC programmers have introduced them to audiences.

That skill was typified by ABC's decision to open the season a week earlier than CBS and NBC. The head start increased the opportunities for new shows to be checked out by curious viewers. Since programs have to be examined before they can hope to gain a following, ABC's new series, playing against reruns, are more likely to find an immediate audience.

Most of ABC's new series have been placed in slots that follow established hits, thus giving these new entries the benefit of an inherited audience. On Tuesdays, for example, "The Lazarus Syndrome" has been slotted after "Taxi," "Benson" comes after "Laverne & Shirley" on Thursdays, "Hart to Hart" follows "Love Boat." And so on.

Sit back and watch the tube to see if the ABC geniuses were right again.

What is the link between the popularity of underwear in the 12th century and the invention of the printing press? What did a group of French monks engaged in sheep herding do that helped give the world the computer?

These are the kinds of questions that will be answered on "Connections: An Alternative View of Change," PBS's 10-part series premiering Sunday, Sept. 30.

Through a blend of wit, information, trivia, history and dramatic sequences, the series traces the "roots" of eight modern technological marvels, such as the atom bomb, telecommunications, and plastics.

E.G. Marshall will introduce each segment, and the series is produced by Mick Jackson and David Kennard, both veterans of "The Ascent of Man" series.

The series will be accompanied by two national educational efforts. The first is a special college course with material printed in newspapers in many PBS markets. The second, funded by AT&T, will distribute classroom materials free of charge to colleges and high schools.

Balsam joins Bunker; can he help 'Family'?

Martin Balsam, whose impressive Oscar- and Tony-winning presence has been added to one of America's all-time popular comedies, does battle on every possible front with the nation's favorite bigot.

In his co-starring role as a liberal Jewish Democrat on "Archie Bunker's Place," which debuted Sept. 23 on CBS, Balsam takes on the role of nemesis, a role filled in the past by son-in-law Mike, cousin Maude, the Jeffersons next door and, finally, Edith.

"We're the most unlikely twosome in the world," Balsam says. "We have no common interest except our partnership in Archie's bar. Anything I stand for, he can't put up with."

While Balsam and O'Connor do battle, "Archie Bunker's Place" will have a tough fight of its own. Placed opposite "Mork and Mindy," "All in the Family" regularly lost the ratings game during the summer. Now with Edith gone, many experts speculate on the program's future vitality.

Will viewers see "Archie Bunker's Place" as a spin-off in its own right or only a truncated version of its former self? The answer should be clear in the next few weeks.

Balsam is regarded as one of the finest character actors around, with credits that include an Oscar for "A Thousand Clowns," a Tony for "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running" and an Obie for "Gold Storage." His films include "On the Waterfront," "Psycho," "Breakfast at Tiffany's" and "Murder on the Orient Express."

A telephone call from Carol O'Connor drew Balsam into "Archie Bunker's Place," which marks his first regular television series role. The two had worked together in a 1960 television dramatization of the Sacco-Vanzetti case. "I took the job because of my faith in Carroll as a performer and, besides, I love the series," says Balsam. "We get the scripts and talk, argue, rehearse. It's a marvelous collective effort."

Balsam lives in New York City, and while he was working this summer his wife and two children made frequent visits to the West Coast. Now that school has started, he flies home for long weekends. Of his new role as Archie's partner, businessman Murray Klein, he declares:

"I prefer doing comedy because we're having fun saying something important. That's what makes this show so successful."

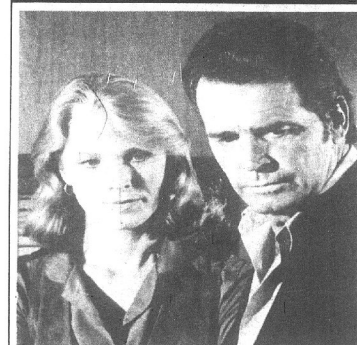

Meanwhile, the popularity of the original series has never been higher. Viacom Enterprises, feeling left out in all the recent publicity over the record off-network prices being harvested by D.L. Taffner's "Three's Company" and Paramount's "Laverne & Shirley," reports that its "All in the Family" has chalked up $87 million in gross sales from the 80 stations that have bought it in syndication, making "Family" the biggest money-making comedy series in television history.

'Cheaper by the Dozen'
North homecoming play

A comedy based on the book by Frank Gilbreth and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey, "Cheaper by the Dozen" will be the Granite City High School North Homecoming play.

It will be presented two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 3 and 4, in Memorial Auditorium located on the GCHS South campus.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. both evenings.

The play will be followed by the coronation of the queen and presentation of the court.

Members of the cast and the roles they will play are: Eric Disney as Mr. Gilbreth (dad), Kim Woodward as Mrs. Gilbreth (mother); part of their dozen will be played by Lynda Loftus, Bob Slate, Tina Parchman, Mark Mills, George Compton, Chris Davis, Lisa Randall, Kim Smith and Jeanne Trimmer.

Anne Fuller plays Mrs. Fitzgerald the housekeeper, Kevin McGee as Dr. Burton the family doctor, Mark Belleville as Joe Seales a cheerleader, Melissa Travis as Miss Brill a teacher, Bill Broadwater as Larry a fullback who is someone special to one of the children.

Patches, owned by Mrs. Lillian Schwing, will play the family puppy.

The play takes place in the 1920s in the living room of the Gilbreth home in Montclair, N.J.

"The play is moving, it says something and it is very funny. Of truth to those attending, perhaps that's because it is true," Dr. Gonia Michaeloff chairman of the North speech department, said.

Co-director of the play with Dr. Michaeloff is Robert Burns a member of the North speech department staff.

Tickets will be on sale at the door on performance nights. Student tickets are $2 and adults $2.50.

Tamburitzan parents plan
dance Sunday

The Happy Strings, Junior Tamburitzans parent group completed plans at a regular monthly meeting for a public dance to be held at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison, on Sunday, Sept. 30, from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m.

Dancing will be to the music of Vince's Internationals, and admission is $1 for adults and 25 cents for children.

If this dance proves successful the group is planning several such dances during the fall and winter and also kolo dance instructions prior to each dance.

In July 1980, the Happy Strings will be attending a junior cultural federal festival in Colorado and will be trying in the months to come to raise funds for the travel expenses.

Presently, there are 13 members of the junior performing group and eight in the beginning group.

They performed this summer at various picnics and ethnic events in the Granite City area.

New county jail is badly needed

NEARING COMPLETION. The new Madison County Jail at Edwardsville should be ready for occupancy by the sheriff's department by the end of this year, which is none too soon, according to Sheriff Emil Toffant. A series of drug arrests which began Thursday afternoon showed the inadequacy of the century-old jail now in use. Toffant said some prisoners had to sleep on the floors while others were transported to other county jails to ease the overcrowding.

Press-Record photo feature by Gary Schneider

LONG CORRIDOR connecting several cell blocks in one wing of the new jail as seen from the main control room. Identical corridors run from the other three sides of the control area. Prisoners are contained by bars such as those in the foreground, steel doors opening into the corridors and the bars on the individual jail cells. Deputies are concerned that the distance from the control room to the end of the corridor is so great that a jailer may have to be posted full-time in the middle of each section.

KITCHEN AREA of the new county jail may be used in the future to supply hot food to the nursing home, shelter care home and juvenile detention center, although such use is not in the immediate plans. Prisoners will be served meals in their cells.

County praises Catholic orphanage on centennial

The Madison County Board last week resolved that "the people of Madison County have concern for the welfare of children, especially those children who are neglected, abandoned, abused or orphaned."

"Congress and the General Assembly of the United Nations have decreed the year 1979 to be the International Year of the Child, during which time all of the people of the world should reflect upon the treatment and care of children.

"The year 1979 is also, and quite fittingly, the centennial anniversary of the founding of the Catholic Children's Home of Alton," the board members noted.

"People of Madison County have long recognized the dedication and competence of the staff of the Catholic Children's Home since its founding, especially their competence in the difficult area of the education of emotionally disturbed children and adolescents.

"The people and their County Board do now wish to congratulate and salute the staff, past and present, of the Catholic Children's Home of Alton.

"We furthermore express appreciation for the kindness and generosity shown over these 100 years to young children who have been orphaned, abandoned, abused or neglected.

Former SIUE officer innocent

Marvin B. Strode, 26, of East St. Louis, a former police officer at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was found innocent last week of violating the cannabis control act by a St. Clair County jury.

The jury deliberated just 40 minutes before acquitting Strode of the charge of delivery of marijuana.

Strode was a probationary SIUE patrolman on duty at the East St. Louis Campus in January when someone fired a shotgun at him at close range. He was wearing a bulletproof vest and was only bruised.

While investigating the shooting, agents of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation said they learned Strode was linked to drug trafficking.

He was charged with selling about 14 grams of marijuana March 19 and was dismissed from the SIUE force the next day.

No reason for the dismissal was offered by SIUE officials at that time.

Federal agencies streamline hiring

Managers in federal agencies throughout Illinois will soon have more authority to fill vacancies in their organizations.

The change was announced Thursday in Chicago by Keith Roelofs, regional director of the federal government's central personnel agency, known as the U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM).

"Previously," said Roelofs, "the OPM, and its predecessor agency, the U.S. Civil Service Commission, acted as a middleman between the public and the supervisor trying to fill a vacancy. Now, managers who have agreed to follow merit selection procedures may do so without having to rely on civil service lists of eligible candidates prepared by our agency."

"The new procedure goes into effect on Oct. 1. Since it is experimental, it will be limited to certain kinds of positions, to only a few pay levels, and to our six-state region."

The Great Lakes Region of OPM encompasses Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin. Approximately 200,000 federal civilian employees work in that area for Social Security, Internal Revenue, Labor, Environmental Protection, Housing and Urban Development, the U.S. military and other agencies.

The experimental procedures will be used in contracts, quality control, administrative and technical vacancies each year at pay levels GS-9 through GS-12 ($17,034 to $24,703).

Examples of positions typically filled at these levels include specialists in contracts, quality control, personnel, real estate and equal opportunity.

After Oct. 1, the OPM's Mid-Level Position announcement CH-5-07 will be replaced by direct efforts of agencies to recruit candidates for employment. The agencies will use an announcement or classified ad to do this.

EXHAUST FANS STOLEN

It was discovered at 11:30 a.m. Saturday that two used exhaust fans, one 24-inch and one 36-inch, with a combined value of $300, were taken from SJC Inc., 1330 Madison Ave., Madison. A copper condensing coil valued at $200 was also taken.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY CHORUS. The group is the first-place barbershop chorus in this region.

Chorus top-rated

The Mississippi Valley Chorus, the Collinsville chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA), under the direction of Don Hadfield, won first place in the annual St. Louis Area Council chorus and quartet contest held in mid-September at Kirkwood High School.

Eight area "barbershoppers" chapters make up the St. Louis Area Council, four located in Illinois and four in St. Louis and St. Charles. The big chorus includes Granite Cityans.

The "Quadratic Equation" quartet, with Collinsville chapter member Dennis McCann of Granite City singing bass, earned second place. Other members, Jim Flowers, Neal Frederickson and David Wright, are members of St. Louis chapters.

"Teen Tones," the chapter's new youth quartet, captured ninth place.

"Gaslight Squires" from St. Charles were first in the quartet competition. The Mississippi Valley chorus membership consists of men who like to sing from Collinsville, Granite City, Edwardsville, Troy, Highland and the surrounding area. They meet every Monday at the Collinsville Building and Loan at 8 p.m., and invite men who like to sing to visit.

Formal music training is not required. For information, Quad-Cityans may call Francis Helm, president, at 667-6194, or George Chapman at 876-4003 (Granite City).

AUTO BURGLARY

Timothy Garner, 2458 Sheridan Ave., discovered that last week someone opened the passenger door of his auto, parked by his home, with a coat hanger, and took a Pioneer FM eight track player and a Spankamot power booster with a combined value of $178. The coat hanger was left on the seat of the auto.

Commander of rescue service

Brigadier General Cornelius Nugteren, vice commander of the Ogden Air Logistics Center, Hill Air Force Base, Utah, has been named to succeed Major General Ralph S. Saunders as commander of Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service at Scott Air Force Base, Ill., Sept. 28.

Gen. Saunders, commander of ARRS since July 1974, will retire effective Oct. 1.

As commander of ARRS, Gen. Nugteren will be responsible for operational control of rescue and recovery service and Aerial Weather Reconnaissance Forces located by component commanders and operation of the Air Force consolidated transition and combat crew helicopter school.

A native of Colton, S.D., Gen. Nugteren entered the service in January 1952 and was commissioned in March 1953 through the aviation cadet program. His first assignment as a pilot in command was in the F-100 aircraft in Germany.

He served in command and headquarters staff positions until August 1975, when he was assigned as commander of the 86th Tactical Fighter Wing at Ramstein Air Base, Germany. He was promoted to brigadier general in August 1976 and was named to his present position in July 1977. He is a command pilot with more than 4,000 hours of flying time.

His military decorations and awards include the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, Air Force Commendation Medal, Air Force Outstanding Unit Award Ribbon with two oak leaf clusters and V device and, from the Republic of Vietnam, the Armed Forces Honor Medal, 1st class, the Cross of Gallantry with palm and the Air Service Medal, honor class.

STEAL 2 BICYCLES

Two 10-speed German made bicycles, valued at $190, were stolen from the rear patio at the home of Ernest Darnell, 2747 Michigan Ave., it was reported at 11 a.m. Tuesday. Both machines, a 24-inch maroon colored bike and a 26-inch silver machine, were chain locked through the wheel spokes, the owner said.

School testing plans discussed

The validity of minimal competency testing in schools and if such test should be uniformed throughout the state or developed on a local district basis was a topic of discussion by the Madison Board of Education last week.

Superintendent John Palchiff expressed his view that competency testing should be handled by each district rather than a uniformed state test.

Although basic educational skills are much the same throughout the state the life skills to be taught can vary widely," Palchiff said.

Life skills were described as such things a child needs to learn to keep a job, to get along with others and learning basic practical social skills.

Board member Donald Garrett said, "I find that a uniformed test would be one way to reflect how a school system is really doing. If there was a statewide test, then we as board members would have something to compare and tell just how good or bad our district was doing."

"We of course would compare the testing results in the Madison district with those of similar districts. As it stands now we have no real way to know how good a job our schools are doing."

"The school district testing itself is like having the children fill out their own report cards," Garrett maintained.

A committee is being formed to investigate the present testing program within the district and make recommendations.

Board President Sam Dymas appointed Garrett and Mrs. Billie Bosworth to a committee. Two teachers from each building and two parents are yet to be named. Palchiff reported to the board that all school districts are to have some plan for competency testing by June 1980 or the state would mandate a test.

The board approved the placing of four safety bumps that would be 5 inches high, 12 inches wide and 25 feet in length at the new middle school.

Mrs. Georgia Stawar was hired as a half-time kindergarten teacher.

Board members Richard

Zeisert, Frank Eaves and Garrett were appointed to a committee to investigate and make recommendations for a new security guard at Madison High School.

Plans were discussed for attending the 1979 assembly of the Illinois Association of School Boards. The association will meet Saturday, Nov. 17, in Chicago.

Amey Reiter marks second birthday

Miss Amy Reiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Reiter, celebrated her second birthday with a party last week at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, 177 Meadowlark Court.

The dining room was decorated with a Raggedy Ann theme.

A Raggedy Ann cake made by her mother centered the table. Miss Karen Reiter, Amy's aunt, dressed as Raggedy Ann and greeted each guest upon arrival. Refreshments were enjoyed by seven guests.

Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Reiter entertained in honor of Amy's birthday at their home in Troy. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reiter, grandparents; Barry and Karen Reiter, uncle and aunt; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, grandparents; Harry David Smith, uncle; and Miss Nancy Mathews.

Kostecki son is christened

Philip Joseph Kostecki, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kostecki, was christened at St. Bartholomew Church. The Rev. Wilbur Lear performed the baptism.

Godparents of the child are Mrs. Natalie Wilkinson, Larry Eaves, the child's uncle, and Richard Peck Jr. A buffet was served after the service to family and friends at the Kostecki's home, 1017 Reynolds St., Madison.

Those attending were the honoree's sister, Cyndi, and grandmothers Ustine "Chris" Kostecki and Mrs. Georgia Wargin, Mr. and Mrs. John Maeras, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Eaves and children Kelly and Doug, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kostecki and daughters Laurie and Rebecca, Mrs. Frances Wargin, Linda McMurray, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peck and son Jeff, Nick Wargin, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Carol and Joey Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evanoff, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Milota, Terri Evanoff, Joe Bodine, M. and Mrs. Bob Koeneman, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gerboe, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Pozanowski, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilkinson and sons Derrick, Eric and Dustin, Rev. Lear, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Reynolds and son Al, Kowalewski and son Charlie, Mrs. Ruby Kostecki and daughters Chris and Mary and Mrs. Adele Wasylak.

Old Scouters meet Saturday

What was Boy Scouting like in the 1920s, 30s or 40s?

This will be the main topic of discussion at the third annual "Old Scouters Reunion" to be held Saturday in area four of Wilson Park from 9 a.m. until everyone gets tired of visiting, according to Ted Scrum and G. Rollin Henn, co-chairmen of the event.

Scouters from those early years are asked to bring pictures and their memories to share with others.

In addition those attending should bring their own food and a chair for "sitting" according to Henn.

"Wooded" coffee will be provided by the committee, but Scouters are to bring their own cups.

KAISER ALUMINUM

RUSTIC ROOF and Rough Sawn House Siding

Freedom from constant care and repair. Because it's aluminum, sun and exposure can't crack it, warp it, split it! Cold, rain and wind can't weaken it or rot it. Weather is locked out, year around comfort locked in.

Protection against roof fire. Because it's aluminum, it will not ignite from flying sparks, falling embers or other outside sources of fire. Kaiser Aluminum Rustic Roof protects as it beautifies!

Value Check List

- ☐ Baked-On Color
- ☐ Will Not Split, Rot
- ☐ Will Not Warp, Crack
- ☐ Locks On All 4 Sides
- ☐ Protection from Sparks and Embers
- ☐ Upgrades Value of Home

In addition, Kaiser Aluminum Rustic Roof and House Siding has been tested against high-velocity winds and water leakage by the University of Miami.

SHOWTIME 1979

SOMETHING SPECIAL FOR EVERYONE!

WATCH "SPIKE BOYD" WORLDS #1 POWER HAND TOOL WOOD CARVER DEMONSTRATE DREMEL PRODUCTS

LEARN THE FUN AND ENJOYMENT OF THE FASCINATING HOBBY OF POWER HAND TOOL CARVING. SPIKE BOYD WILL SHOW YOU HOW EASY AND INEXPENSIVE IT IS. LEARN HOW TO CARVE MINATURE ANIMALS, WALL PLAQUES, EVEN A BIG 6 FOOT CIGAR STORE INDIAN.

NOT ONLY CAN THIS BE A FANTASTIC HOBBY BUT IN FACT A LUCRATIVE BUSINESS DONE IN YOUR HOME AFTER YOU BECOME PROFICIENT IN MASTERING THE ART. ANYONE WHO CAN USE A BALL POINT PEN CAN OPERATE THESE DREMEL POWER HAND TOOLS. SPIKE WILL NOT ONLY DEMONSTRATE THESE TOOLS BUT WILL BE GLAD TO ANSWER QUESTIONS AND GIVE ADVICE.

SEE "BILLY MURRAY" MEMBER OF SPORTS FISHING HALL OF FAME DEMONSTRATE EAGLE CLAW PRODUCTS IN GIANT 10,000 GALLON TANK.

LEARN BAIT CASTING TECHNIQUES AND HOW DIFFERENT LURES WORK UNDER AND ON WATER. BILLY WILL ANSWER FISHING QUESTIONS AND PROBLEMS. THE BIG GLASS-WALLED TANK FEATURES A "BASS STRIKE SIMULATOR" THAT SHOWS YOU HOW THEY TAKE YOUR LURES. DON'T MISS THIS EXHIBIT IF YOU'RE A FISHERMAN (DEMONSTRATIONS ON THE HOUR).

"HOMER FORMBY" IN PERSON!

NATIONALLY KNOWN AUTHORITY ON FURNITURE CARE AND RESTORATION WILL BE AT THE SHOW

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

SEE HIM FROM 10 AM TIL 12 AND FROM 1 PM TIL 4 PM

LEARN HOW TO PROTECT YOUR TWO BIGGEST INVESTMENTS: YOUR HOME AND YOUR FURNITURE. BE TAUGHT BY THE EXPERT, MR. HOMER FORMBY, BE SURE AND ATTEND THIS SESSION OF THE SHOW. YOU'LL GET A FREE COPY OF FORMBY'S ALL NEW 1979 GUIDE TO FURNITURE AND HOME CARE.

"DREMEL" MOTO-TOOL KIT

CARVE, SAND, SHARPEN, DRILL AND MORE WITH THIS AMAZING KIT!

FEATURES 30,000 RPM MOTOR AND PERMANENTLY LUBRICATED BRONZE SLEEVE BEARINGS. COMES WITH 34 ACCESSORIES PLUS A HANDY CARRYING/STORAGE CASE.

"MR. TINKER" RETURNS TO THIS YEAR'S SHOW

MR. TINKER WILL BE IN HIS BOOTH ALL DURING THE SHOW TO ANSWER ANY OF YOUR FIX-IT PROBLEMS AND HOW-TO-DO-IT QUESTIONS.

MR. TINKER'S AVAILABLE TO SPEAK TO YOUR GROUP!

CENTRAL HARDWARE'S MR. TINKER WITH HIS WEALTH OF HOW-TO-DO-IT EXPERTISE AND TIPS, IS AVAILABLE TO GROUPS IN THE ST. LOUIS AREA AS A SPEAKER, FREE OF CHARGE FOR PERSONAL APPEARANCES. MR. TINKER REQUESTS GROUPS OF 25 OR MORE PERSONS. YOUR HOW-TO-DO-IT QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERED BY MR. TINKER, AS HE HAS DONE DURING THE LAST FOUR YEARS ON NUMEROUS PANEL AND AT-YOUR-SERVICE TYPE OF APPEARANCES. IF YOU HAVE A QUESTION, ADDRESS IT TO MR. TINKER ON A "CUSTOMER WANT" CARD AT ANY CENTRAL HARDWARE STORE, OR BY WRITING DIRECTLY TO: MR. TINKER, CENTRAL HARDWARE, 111 BOULDER INDUSTRIAL DRIVE, BRIDGETON, MISSOURI, 63044.

PLUS HUNDREDS OF OTHER FASCINATING DEMONSTRATIONS & EXHIBITS!

"DO-IT-YOURSELF" SHOW BOASTS OVER 300 INTERESTING EXHIBITS!

ST. LOUISANS WILL ONCE MORE BE ABLE TO RECEIVE A TOP FLIGHT EDUCATION ON HOW TO DO JUST ABOUT EVERYTHING AT THE FIFTH ANNUAL CENTRAL HARDWARE LEARN TO TINKER "DO-IT-YOURSELF SHOW". IT WILL BE HELD AT THE ST. LOUIS CONVENTION CENTER, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28 THROUGH SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1979.

PROGRAM FEATURES MORE THAN 300 OF THE HARDWARE INDUSTRY'S TOP SUPPLIERS, MANUFACTURERS AND SALES REPRESENTATIVES. THEY WILL BE ON HAND TO EXPLAIN TO PATRONS OF THE SHOW HOW TO PROPERLY USE THEIR PRODUCTS. CENTRAL HARDWARE'S SLOGAN "EVERYTHING FROM SCOOP TO NUTS" IS CERTAINLY APPROPRIATE FOR WHAT MAY BE FOUND AT THE "DO-IT-YOURSELF SHOW", AS THE CATEGORIES RANGE FROM PLUMBING AND FURNITURE ANTIQUING TO INDOOR GARDENING AND HOW TO LAY FLOORING AND INSTALL PANELING.

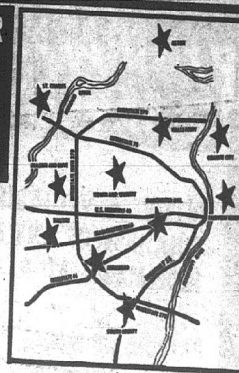

MAINLY BECAUSE OF PAST YEARS PUBLIC ACCEPTANCE AND THE NATIONAL ATTENTION THE SHOWS HAVE RECEIVED, THIS YEAR'S PRODUCTION IS ONCE MORE PACKED WITH FACTORY INDUSTRY'S TOP NAMES, INCLUDING AMF, ROCKWELL INTERNATIONAL, BLACK & DECKER, SKIL, WHIRLPOOL, JUST TO MENTION A FEW.

AS "HARDWARE RETAILING" A NATIONAL INDUSTRY PUBLICATION SAID, "ONE OF THE STRENGTHS OF THE SHOW IS THE EXCITEMENT CREATED THROUGH SOUND AND MOTION. A CHAIN SAW MANUFACTURER FIRES UP AND AMIDST A DEAFENING ROAR, SCULPTS A TOTEM POLE FROM A ROUGH LOG... FACTORY REPRESENTATIVES ERECT A WALL OF DECORATOR BRICK ON THE SPOT".

THE EXHIBIT FACILITIES INVOLVES 80,000 SQUARE FEET OF DECORATED SPACE AND WILL BE OPEN FREE TO THE PUBLIC FROM 10 AM TO 10 PM FRIDAY, 10 AM TO 10 PM SATURDAY, AND 10 AM TO 4 PM SUNDAY.

SERVING OUR COMMUNITY WITH PRIDE SINCE 1903!

STOP BY ANY CENTRAL HARDWARE STORE AND EXPERIENCE FIRST HAND, WHY WE HAVE BECOME KNOWN AS THE "SUPERMARKET" OF THE HARDWARE AND LUMBER INDUSTRY. THROUGH INTEGRITY, PRIDE AND GOOD BUSINESS SENSE, "CENTRAL" HAS DEVELOPED INTO A SUCCESSFUL HARDWARE AND HOME IMPROVEMENT BUSINESS REACHING 5 STATES.
